Fury of Tropical Hurricane Diminishes

HEAVY LOSS REPORTED AT PENSACOLA

Mobile Suffers Slightly From High Wind as Gale Tends to Blow Self Out

370 DEAD IN FLORIDA

Fatality List Declines As Cities Gather Bodies; Burial Lots Offered Free

The West Indian hurricane, which swept southeastern Florida, seems to have spent its fury with the blow it struck at Pensacola and Mobile.

Reports today from the gulf coast showed heavy winds west of Pensacola, but not of hurricane proportions.

With the first word in 24 hours received from the Pensacola area early today by radio to New Orleans, revealing heavy property damage but few casualties, all of the storm area had been heard from.

(By United Press)
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 22.—Tremendous destruction of property by the hurricane, which lashed Pensacola for 20 hours yesterday, was reported by Mayor Bayliss, of that city, in a radiogram to the naval radio station at Algiers, near here, early today.

The commander of the Pensacola naval station reported three persons were killed by the gale and expressed the fear that a larger toll of life was taken in the settlements northwest of the city, which had not been heard from.

Major Bayliss added to the commander's statement that there was no loss of life "in Pensacola proper." He said wharf structures and light shipping suffered most.

"It is impossible to estimate the extent of the damage at this time," Bayliss reported.

Mobile, which was in partial communication yesterday, today was able to give a full account of its damages. It suffered only slightly, compared to the heavy losses that occurred in Florida cities.

SEVERE DAMAGE AT NAVAL AIR STATION
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Serious damage to the naval air station at Pensacola in the West Indian hurricane was reported in naval communications here over night.

The station's water supply was out, however and there was no light, water or power.

Red cross messages said only that Pensacola had been hard hit.

The storm, according to the weather bureau's late night reports, was diminishing and centered between New Orleans and Vicksburg, Miss.

Steps to prevent typhoid fever, reported to be an immediate danger in Miami, have been taken by the national Red Cross.

Dr. William H. Redden, medical adviser to the vice chairman of the American Red Cross, declared over the telephone from Miami that 22 wells had been discovered with typhoid infection and that one case of the disease had been reported.

Twenty thousand units of anti-typhoid vaccine are on the way to Miami by train and airplane, having been sent by the U. S. public health service.

Several persons have been killed by the West Indian hurricane at Lillian and Seminole, between Pensacola and Mobile, and an un-

RICKARD WINS OPENING ROUND IN COURT CASE

Eliminate Dempsey, Tunney As Co-Defendants In Injunction Suit

(By United Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—Attorneys for Tex Rickard, this afternoon succeeded in having Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney eliminated as co-defendants with Rickard at the opening of hearings on injunction applications brought by the Coliseum club of Chicago in common pleas court here.

Francis Shunk Brown, representing the promoter and supported by City Solicitor Gaffney, then sought to have the injunction application dismissed on grounds that the plaintiff was guilty of what is known in law as laches—in other words that a case had been permitted to go to an undue length before court action was brought.

Gaffney, representing the Sequel-Centennial association, stated that large sums of money had been spent in preparation for the fight and that persons from all parts of the country were here to witness it.

"And the plaintiff now comes before this court a few hours before the bout is to take place and seeks an injunction," Gaffney said. "They have had notice for months of the fight. Rickard has been harassed in his efforts to arrange the bout and there has been great delay in bringing this action."

Rickard was placed on the stand and said he had made a contract with Dempsey "about 20 days ago."

Questioned as to his knowledge of the alleged agreement between the Coliseum club and Dempsey, Rickard declared he knew of such an agreement but that "it constituted no contract." The promoter told of an understanding with Dempsey, arrived at last April, under which the champion said "he would fight anybody" for Rickard but would sign no contract until after August 5.

Course For Prosecution

According to Wetlin, the course now open to the prosecution will be to ask the court to summon the defendants into court to have a date set for a new trial. If they fail to appear when summoned, their bond can be forfeited, he says, and a bench warrant for their arrest would be asked. When apprehended, they would be brought to trial, he said.

Wetlin holds the opinion that the defendants could not offer the defense "once in jeopardy" to a new trial. Their previous trial and conviction is nullified by failure of the court to pass sentence upon them, and does not figure in any way in the matter of a new trial, he contends.

Mrs. Ward, the Walls and Martin were found guilty of inducing Ivory Shields, 20, of Santa Ana, to purchase liquor for them, and of offering him some of the liquor to drink. At the time they were engaged in setting evidence in liquor cases.

Following their conviction, their attorney, William T. Kendrick Jr., of Los Angeles, produced evidence that two of the jurors had heard a portion of evidence given at their preliminary hearing, besides testimony at Shields' trial on a liquor charge. Kendrick moved for a new trial on the ground that the jury had received evidence out of court.

Judge Drumm granted the motion. Wetlin, who opposed the motion, declined to offer the qualifications of the jurors and, under the law, these qualifications could not be attacked after the jurors were accepted and sworn.

The district court of appeals upheld the appeal and reversed the superior court. The defendants then carried their appeal to the supreme court, where the same action resulted, and where the right of the defendants to a new trial was pointed out, despite the decision of the court reversing the new trial order.

The supreme court did not order that the defendants be given a new trial, merely calling attention to their right to it.

DRY SLEUTHS ENTITLED TO NEW HEARING

Supreme Court Rules in Case of Mrs. Ward and Three Other Detectives

DRUMM IS REVERSED

Action of Superior Judge Upset, but at Same Time Another Trial is Allowed

MRS. BEVERLY WARD, pretty anti-saloon league investigator, who, with three fellow sleuths, came into notoriety here following the county-wide liquor raids of 1924 when they were convicted of contributing to the delinquency of a minor, is entitled to a new trial.

But the Orange county superior court made a legal error when it granted her and her fellows a new trial.

So says the California supreme court, in an opinion just received here, disclosing a seemingly paradoxical situation, unique in the annals of Orange county courts.

The supreme court has reversed the order of former Superior Judge F. C. Drumm, who granted a new trial to Mrs. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wall and Frank Martin. In the same breath, the supreme court says that Mrs. Ward and the others are entitled to a new trial because the superior court, besides erring in granting the new trial, also erred by failing to pronounce judgment upon the defendants within the legal limit of five days after their conviction. In fact, it is said, judgment has never been pronounced at all. That explains the paradox.

Law May Have No Hold
With the receipt of the supreme court decision in the case, another puzzling situation may have developed. In certain legal quarters today, the opinion was expressed that, as a result of the status given by the supreme court, the new trial now has no hold upon the defendants, and will have none unless the defendants should come into court voluntarily and ask for a new trial. The same opinion was vented by the superior court judge.

The district attorney's office, however, has a different view of the case and bases its view upon a close study of the law pertaining to the situation.

Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wetlin declares that the prosecution can proceed to press the case against the defendants anew, and will do so without delay. Chief Deputy C. N. Mozley and other members of the district attorney's staff agree with Wetlin.

Course For Prosecution
According to Wetlin, the course now open to the prosecution will be to ask the court to summon the defendants into court to have a date set for a new trial. If they fail to appear when summoned, their bond can be forfeited, he says, and a bench warrant for their arrest would be asked. When apprehended, they would be brought to trial, he said.

150 Killed By Hurricane In Paraguay

ENCARNACION, Paraguay, Sept. 22.—A hurricane struck this city Monday night, killing about 150 persons, injuring 500 others and causing damage estimated at a million dollars. The lower part of the city was completely wiped out and a number of boats in the Parana river were capsized. In the most seriously affected district, virtually all the buildings were destroyed, including two banks, two hotels and the customs house. The streets are blocked with debris and trees are uprooted by the gale. Much damage has been done to docks.

20 HURT WHEN BLAST WRECKS GROCERY FIRM

Firemen Dig for Bodies That May Be Buried Under Debris

(By United Press)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 22.—Twenty persons were injured, one probably fatally, in an explosion that wrecked the Youngstown Grocery company and three adjoining residences here early today.

After extinguishing flames that broke out in the wreckage, firemen set to work digging for bodies that may be buried. Two of the residences were said by neighbors to be unoccupied, but the other may have housed a family.

The explosion rocked the entire city and damaged property within a radius of three blocks. Property damage is estimated at $300,000.

The blast threw persons in the immediate neighborhood from their beds and brought thousands to the scene.

Windows in stores and residences were blown out by the force of the blast.

WIFE OF LLANOS SEEKING DIVORCE

EL CENTRO, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Alexandra Llanos, wife of the former chief of police at Tin Juana, Mex., has filed suit for divorce here, on charges of cruelty.

In her complaint, Mrs. Llanos charges her husband frequently shot out the windows of their home and threatened his wife and three children.

The "Petee" shame suicide case, in which Llanos was involved, was cited as an example of his "disolute character."

The couple married in Ensenada, 1914, and separated following Llanos' arrest in the Petee case.

More Warships Go to Nicaragua

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Two more U. S. destroyers were ordered to Bluefields, Nicaragua, by the navy today, on request of Rear Admiral Latimer, in charge of the navy's special service squadron. His request indicates the revolution in Nicaragua is becoming more serious.

BOURBONS OF STATE ADOPT DRY PLANK

California Democrats Act In Favor of Prohibition After Wild Night Session

VOTE STANDS 52 TO 49

Republicans Have Peaceful Convention; Indorse the Swing-Johnson Dam Bill

(By United Press)

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 22.—The Democratic platform in California today contained a dry plank.

The plank was nailed down by a vote of 52 to 49 early this morning, after an all-night battle between the wet and dry forces. It was a wild night and the corridors of the capitol rang with the tumult of shouting and arguing. At times, the shrill voices of the women delegates rose above the uproar.

After it was over, the tired and sleepy delegates went back to their hotels for a day of sleep before returning to their homes.

Success of the dry faction in the Bourbon convention offset the earlier victory of the anti-McAdoo group yesterday evening, which resulted in a victory for Justus S. Wardell, Democratic candidate for governor.

Ewing Is Chairman
As a result, David J. Ewing, of Fresno, was elected convention chairman over Judge Claude F. Pinkitt, of Willows.

September 25 was set for the meeting of both Republican and Democratic state central committees, at the Palace hotel, San Francisco.

The early morning battle was precipitated by a minority resolution, introduced by Nathan Newby, of Los Angeles, indorsing the state prohibition act and opposing any attempt to repeal it in the November election.

The convention platform committee had evaded the issue when it reported.

After the resolution was adopted, the convention again was thrown into an uproar over a motion to reconsider.

G. O. P. Meeting Peaceful
In contrast to the Democratic assembly, the Republicans quietly gathered, elected Congressman Phil D. Swing as permanent chairman, heard addresses by their candidates, adopted a platform and adjourned. To inhibit any chance of friction, friends of Lt. Gov. C. C. Young, Republican nominee for governor, and Senator Samuel M. Shortridge, candidate for re-election, agreed upon appointment of State Controller Ray L. Riley as temporary chairman.

Mrs. Cora B. Woodbridge, assemblywoman, was chosen permanent secretary.

G. O. P. Platform Summary
Outstanding planks in the G. O. P. platform were:

Indorsement of the Coolidge administration; reaffirmed Swing-Johnson bill for the Boulder dam; reaffirmed the part stand for law and order; adhered to direct primary law; praised work of Senator Johnson and Congressman Swing in the Boulder dam fight; provided tax revision; favored state institution for delinquent women; equitable community property law; equalization of age for men and women, and protective legislation for women and children; advocated the $20,000,000 veterans' farm and home loan act; favored revision of criminal procedure; urged completion of state highways, and advocated forest and water conservation.

MARIPOSA, Calif., Sept. 22.—With a jury of 12 men selected and preliminary witnesses heard, the prosecution today presented the evidence with which it expects to convict Paul Baran, 51, part owner of the Little Shylock mine here, for the murder of his three partners.

Baran went on trial in superior court here yesterday. He is charged with the murder of Victor Shimonoff, Harry Clarke and Theodore Shastner, on August 16, last.

(By United Press)
The prosecution today attempted to prove that the crime was caused by "love and gold." Testimony that the men often quarreled over the mine and that Baran attempted to force his attentions on Mrs. Clarke, his partner's wife, was to be heard.

It also was expected that an effort would be made to introduce Baran's alleged confession to the sheriff of Merced county, where he surrendered himself.

Uke Murderer Will Get Death Sentence

SAN JOSE, Sept. 22.—Sentence to hang will be passed on Frederick David Galloway, 24, when he appears in superior court, Friday, as a result of the superior court verdict, finding him guilty of murdering Andrew Pashute. The jury decision came late yesterday, after hours of deliberation over the crime, in which Galloway beat Pashute over the head with an automobile crank, stole his ukulele and fled to Los Angeles, where he was captured.

12 SUBPOENAED TO TESTIFY ON CARMEL STORY

Persons Claiming to Have Seen Evangelist in North Summoned

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—Several witnesses from Douglas, Ariz., and Agua Prieta, Mex., who claim to have seen Almerie Semple McPherson, are alleged to have staged a fake escape from kidnappers, may be subpoenaed for appearance at the hearing here Monday of the evangelist and her associates on charges of conspiracy to defeat justice.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—Twelve witnesses, who claim to have seen Almerie Semple McPherson and Kenneth G. Ormiston together at Carmel-by-the-Sea, have been subpoenaed to testify Monday of the evangelist and her associates on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Several of the prospective witnesses, including Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hershey, of Santa Barbara, were questioned by deputy district attorneys today, preparatory to the hearing Monday, when Mrs. McPherson, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman are to appear in court.

Strolling in Moonlit Lane?
Hershey, a well known Santa Barbara, contends he saw Mrs. McPherson and Ormiston strolling in a moonlit lane near the Benedict cottage, at Carmel. This was shortly after Mrs. McPherson disappeared at Ocean Park, it was said, and before she reappeared in the Sonora desert, near Douglas, Ariz.

Walter Moore, a Santa Barbara newspaperman, is another witness who has agreed to testify. Moore claims he saw Mrs. McPherson in Ormiston's automobile, near Santa Barbara, last May. The couple was traveling toward Los Angeles, Moore said.

Ormiston, through his attorney, E. H. S. Martin, has refused to come to Los Angeles and give himself up on the conspiracy warrants issued by the district attorneys' office here. The radio man is said to be in hiding in Chicago, and is prepared, it was said, to fight extradition.

Suggests Chicago Meeting
Ormiston has offered to meet District Attorney Asa Keyes in conference in Chicago, according to a message from Attorney Martin. The local prosecutor refused to go to Chicago and demanded that the radio operator return to California.

Ormiston is wanted here on two felony counts. One charges criminal conspiracy to defeat justice by being a party to the "Carmel hoax," and the other accuses him of preparing false evidence by making affidavits in support of Mrs. McPherson's alleged fake kidnapping story.

District Attorney Keyes is determined to have Ormiston here before Monday to face hearing along with the evangelist and her mother.

The hearing is expected to last several days and will be in the nature of a trial itself, with many witnesses to be heard. This is to insure holding the defendants for trial, according to the district attorney.

ACCEPTANCE OF RESERVES IS ADVISED

Drafting Committee of 14 Recommends America be Taken Into Membership

FORMULA IS APPROVED

Proposal Required Adoption by All Signatories, Then by United States

(By United Press)

GENEVA, Sept. 22.—Acceptance of all the American reservations to the World court protocol was recommended by the drafting committee of 14 today, with the sole provision that the United States should negotiate an understanding with the League of Nations council with respect to the manner of expressing American consent to the court rendering an advisory opinion.

The committee of 14 was appointed by the conference of The Hague court signatories here to find a formula for accepting the U. S. senate's reservations. The committee today adopted a draft of the formula outlined in the foregoing.

Should the United States object to the court giving an advisory opinion on any question to which the United States was not a party, this objection would have the same force and effect as if the United States were a member of the league and voted against such an advisory opinion.

All signatories of the World court protocol will be requested to use the formula devised by the committee today as a basis for their individual replies to the United States with respect to the senate's reservations.

The formula still would have to be accepted by the full conference of World court signatories and then by the United States. The drafters of the formula sought a means of safeguarding the rights of the present signatories, while at the same time making the formula in such form that President Coolidge and Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg could accept it without further reference to the senate.

Formula as Adopted
The formula adopted by the subcommittee was as follows:

1—Authorizing the United States to participate on a basis of equality in all meetings of the League of Nations council or assembly for the election of World court judges.

2—Recognizing that no amendment to the court statutes would be possible without the consent of the United States.

3—Guaranteeing that the court shall render all advisory opinions in public session.

4—Providing that the manner in which the United States shall consent to the court rendering an advisory opinion shall be the subject of an understanding to be reached between the U. S. government and the league council.

5—Recognizing the United States' right at any time to withdraw from the court.

6—Recognizing the court's right to withdraw acceptance of the American reservations if the latter should prove to be unsatisfactory, by vote of two-thirds of the signatories.

GIRL'S SLAYER TO DRAW LIFE TERM

STOCKTON, Sept. 22.—Life imprisonment today awaited George Pound, 22, found guilty of the murder, on the night of July 30, of Nina Breakley, 15-year-old grammar school girl.

After five hours and 50 minutes of deliberation, the jury brought in a verdict of "guilty," with the recommendation that a life sentence be imposed.

Pound will appear for sentence before Judge C. W. Miller Saturday morning.

St. Louis Nears Pennant In N. L.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 22.—The St. Louis Cardinals today retaliated against the Brooklyn Robins for their defeat of yesterday and trimmed them to the tune of 15 to 7, thereby gaining a half game over their idle second place rivals, the Cincinnati Reds.

By winning today's game, the Cards need but one more victory in their remaining three games to at least tie for the pennant, while two wins will clinch it, regardless of what Cincinnati does in their remaining four battles.

WOOD UNDER KNIFE

MANILA, Sept. 22.—Surgeons at the army hospital today announced that Gov. Gen. Leonard Wood was successfully operated on for hernia.

GENEVA.—What, good and bad, has Communism done for Russia? For all the old glory of Russia, it has, of course, worked nothing but destruction. The upper and middle classes, with all they stood for, have simply ceased to exist. The process of eliminating them was the Terror, for whose atrocities there is no mitigation, unless it is to say that they were no worse than those of Czarism. That is finished, now, and inside of Russia the only concrete question left is, What is Bolshevism doing for the working classes, city and country?

The answer is, for the industrial workers, that they get about as much pay, and live not quite as well, as under the old oppression, but that they say they are much happier. Considering all the destruction of war, the embargo of the outside world, and the newness of the system, they say that it is doing well to live only as badly as before. They hope for better, in this respect, later, and they have already better, in the feeling of dignity and of being the masters. That is what the propaganda tells them to say, and they do say it, even when they are not saying it. How much they mean it, there is no way to tell.

In addition, the new government is democratic, in the half sense that it is government for the people, though not by the people. It is a dictatorship for the benefit of the workers. It has put in social insurance plans, against sickness, unemployment, old age, and the rest, all borrowed straight from Imperial Germany. There are good things, but they are no more characteristic of Communism than of Imperialism or democracy. It has put in tuberculosis rest homes, undernourishment clinics, and the other commonplaces of good social service. It has, in addition, started an enormous program of popular education, and of intellectual ferment, which is a good thing, too, but could have done much better by a democratic government, whose interest was education and not propaganda.

For the peasants, who are nearly all the people of Russia, the only thing Bolshevism has done is to let them grab the landlord's land, and to have a better chance to learn to read. It has not Communized land tenure. The peasant wants to own his own land, and, in my opinion, he is going to do so, capitalistically.

There is no room to recount interesting discussions of this, the biggest problem in Russia, except the officials in charge of it. The peasant, on the whole, is living better, and is happier, than before, merely because he has more land. He is the key to the whole situation. Whenever Communism becomes too communistic for him, he simply stops raising more than he can eat himself, and Communism yields.

THE greatest transformation is, of course, in business. There are private businesses in Russia, but they are all small, and are not permitted to grow larger—except the concessions, of which more later. There is also, as there already was under the Czar, much business done by voluntary co-operatives. But practically all the large business now—all the railroads, all the factories, all the important retail trading—is owned and run by the government. But it is owned and run capitalistically. The workmen do not get "the full product of his toil." In fact, he gets none of it. He gets wages, determined partly by legal classifications, but mostly on the bargain his union is able to make. The state, as the owner, supplies the capital, takes the profits and stands the losses. The workman lives by buying things with his wages. The whole thing is no more Socialistic, to say nothing of Communist, than the municipal street railway system of San Francisco, or the electric light plant of a Swiss canton. Communism did not begin to be a success in Russia until it ceased to be Communism.

DOES it pay? That depends on how you keep the books. In the first place, Russia's business, as a whole, did not pay even with private ownership, under the Czar. Half a billion of French money went into Russia every year, some of which went into the army, and into graft, and the rest of which capitalized, and paid the losses, of the growing Russian industries. If these "broke even" now, it would be an enormous gain. They do, if you don't count depreciation. But you can make a "profit" every year, that way, and at the end find your plant gone and yourself "broke." Russian state-controlled industries are probably in that process.

Neighborly Jest Costs Two Lives

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—A neighborly jest, made by H. E. Ranes as John Sprague passed his home in Belvedere, near here, cost the lives of Ranes and his wife, according to a confession to police today.

Sprague, questioned concerning the fatal shooting of Mr. and Mrs. Ranes, his neighbors, told police the couple made jesting remarks about his clothing.

"I couldn't stand that sort of thing," he said.

Sprague is to be tried on charges of first-degree murder.

DEATH LIST IN FLORIDA DIMINISHES

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 22.—The death list in southern Florida continued to dwindle today, as officials began a careful recheck of casualties in the West Indian hurricane of Saturday.

The toll of lives taken in Greater Miami, which yesterday was reported as 132, late today was officially announced as 95 by W. H. Combs Jr., chief of the mortuary committee.

Of this number, 16 are negroes. The identified whites total 62, unidentified, 17. Fifteen of the negroes have been identified.

The names of two additional dead were brought to the investigating committee which Combs heads today. They were Mrs. Dora Wilkes, 53, who died of injuries at Jackson Memorial hospital, and John Sutherland, 28, negro.

Mrs. Wilkes' son is enroute from Baltimore to his mother's bedside, and word of her death has not reached him.

Burial of Dead Proceeds
Burial of the dead is going forward rapidly. Combs told the United Press, as soon as the unidentified have been examined for marks of identification and their teeth charted, they are being interred at Miami Memorial park.

This cemetery has offered burial lots without charge for all who are unable to pay for them. Many bodies are being taken north to outside cities for burial by relatives and friends of the storm victims.

With relief pouring in from other cities, southeastern Florida today was rapidly recovering from the effects of Saturday's hurricane.

The known dead in the storm area today totaled 370. It was believed that by tonight practically all of the dead would be identified and extent of the catastrophe definitely known. It was thought that the total would not go much higher.

Day of Digging Graves
Burial of the dead cast its inevitable gloom over the city. Caskets were sent from outside cities and all day graves were dug and filled again in the cemetery.

In the cities and through the outlying districts, squads of railroad workmen repaired the tracks while linemen for telephone, telegraph and power companies restored communication and power transmission. Reports gathered here show that the list of known dead in the storm area now stands:

Miami, 95.
Miami Beach, 52.
Hollywood, 40.
Moorehaven, 30.
Hialeah and vicinity, 50.
At various scattered points, 50.
Total, 370.

In an effort to get the reconstruction of the city under way, all building materials on hand—of which the supply is said to be generous—had been pooled and will be apportioned in accordance with the needs by a committee headed by Marcus Milam.

Wreckage has already been removed from the streets sufficiently to permit resumption of vehicular traffic, and yesterday automobiles and trucks moved about the city with only slight difficulty.

The property loss in greater Miami is officially reported at $100,000,000 by insurance adjusters, after a rapid survey of demolished buildings in the devastated city.

Of this amount, approximately 10 per cent is protected by insurance. The probable recovery, the adjusters said, would not total more than $15,000,000.

Tetanus anti-toxin was brought here last night from Richmond, Va., by Lieutenant Bissell, of the U. S. air service. The airman was delayed at Jacksonville by a broken propeller.

Lieutenant Bissell left hurriedly today for Jacksonville, at the request of medical authorities, to obtain a supply of typhoid serum, following the discovery that 22 wells contained typhoid germs.

Thirteen bodies have been recovered in Miami Beach, a check disclosed today. Seven have not been identified.

Reported Dead; Safe
American Legion workers found Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Cherbin, first reported as dead, safe at the home of a friend on Golden Beach.

Miami Beach today was divided into districts and a survey was begun by Boy Scouts and Legionnaires to list the dead, injured and missing.

Definite steps toward reconstruction and rehabilitation were to be made today upon the arrival of Henry Baker, national disaster director of the American Red Cross.

As you pass my establishment you will notice a long line of people doing business. No, they are not buying diamonds—not by any means. They are each trying their best to dispose of the best automobile (so they say) that ever travelled.

If I had the many virtues of their wares, I'd be covered with pin feathers and moulting by now.

OWNER CHICAGO MEDIC SUPPLY HOUSE VISITOR

H. B. Aznoe, sole owner of the Aznoe Nations' Physicians' exchange, of Chicago, a large supply and mail order house dealing in medical supplies and hospital equipment, and Mrs. Aznoe are visitors in the city. They are registered at Hotel Santa Ana.

While Aznoe is an outstanding figure in the business world of the Windy city, he is equally well known there as a sports enthusiast. Among the Chicago sport writers he is known as the high commissioner of horseshoes and sponsor of golf, checkers and chess.

He is considered an authority on horseshoe pitching and has served as judge at several state tournaments. As an ardent golf player, he has improved his game to such a degree that he has won several trophies.

Aznoe is a unique character, a man who really does the things that many men say they would do if they had the opportunity. He is a champion and exemplar of the Golden Rule and square deal and carries his beliefs into daily practice. He already has won his million dollar business to his 250 employees and conducts his business operations on a 50-50 profit sharing plan. He says that it is the duty of every one to make himself and the world better.

Notwithstanding the fact that his organization pays top wages and the further fact that he gives but little time to the supervision of his business, the volume of business has increased from year to year.

Mr. and Mrs. Aznoe devote most of their time to traveling, dividing their time between Florida, Arizona and Southern California.

90-DAY SENTENCE IS GIVEN BARBER

A. Fitzpatrick, 27, Buena Park barber, today was sentenced to 90 days in the county jail when brought before Justice Andrew Wilson, charged with breach of the peace. The original charge against Fitzpatrick was assault with a deadly weapon.

Fitzpatrick was arrested Monday night by Deputy Sheriff D. D.
Adams, after the officer had been forced to shoot in the air in an attempt to stop the man, who is said to have started running at the approach of Adams. Adams finally outman Fitzpatrick and arrested him.

At the time of his arrest, the barber is alleged to have had three razors in his possession. "He only had one of the razors in action,
however," said Justice Wilson.

Parks Auto and Returns to Find Free Groceries

Here's another reason why the parking question in Santa Ana daily is becoming more serious.

Mrs. Mary Snyder, 1248 West
Eighty street, parked her car in a stall on Fourth street yesterday afternoon. She shopped for an hour or so and, when she returned to her machine, a large basket of groceries was found in the back seat.

Those interested in the parking
question now fear that others,
hoping to obtain the evening meal
without cost, will clog the parking stalls.

Mrs. Snyder reported her "find"
to police, then took the groceries home. She said that the owner could have them provided a description of the goods was given in advance.

CHARLES HELL IS REGAINING HEALTH

Charles F. Hell, president of the Excelsior creamery company, is "feeling well again and has put on all the weight he cares for," according to a letter received here
today from Muskoka, Canada,
where Hell went following an operation in the Mayo Brothers' hospital, in Rochester, Minn.

Writing to Victor Walker, a friend, Hell said that he now was able to play golf daily and attend
indoor ball games between college students at Muskoka, a well known resort.

Hell expects to leave for Detroit
next week, attend some of the big college football games during the early fall and return to his residence here probably about November 1.

COULDN'T IDENTIFY SELF SO IS JAILED

Operating an automobile on the highway without proper identification caused the arrest, last night, of D. C. Jefferies, 21, pipe fitter of 343 East Commonwealth avenue, Fullerton.

The man was arrested by Walter Meyer, state officer, who brought him to the county jail when Jefferies is alleged to have been unable to produce a driver's license or proper registration card.

Jefferies probably will be brought before Justice Andrew Wilson today.

the ground. Insurance totaling $4000 was carried.

The fire resulted when a gas stove exploded, it is believed. Mrs.
Scott was in Los Angeles and her husband was working in the orchard at the time of the fire.

day when the automobile in which he was riding with A. A. Wilson, 116 Brookville avenue, Fullerton, collided with a machine driven by J. S. Willis, 514 West 12th street

after spending a delightful summer
with her brother and sister-in-law,
former United States Senator Wil-

at Grand Rapids, Mich. The first part of her stay was spent at the Lake Michigan, and many interesting motoring trips were enjoyed over the state where Mrs. Campau visited many of her old friends.

En route home she stopped over ver, Colo. and had planned to visit in San Francisco, but contracted

Alleged 'Flights' Of Aviator Hubby Bring About Suit

Mrs. Clara A. Tunstall had many complaints to make against the conduct of her husband, James T. Tunstall, Imperial valley aviator, when she filed her suit for divorce today.

It might be gathered from the wife's charges that Tunstall's flights were made through the upper altitudes, chiefly.

The complaint names another woman and says that there were at least two rivals of the wife for the aviator's favor.

Besides alleged philandering, Tunstall is accused of habitual intemperance, cruelty, desertion and non-support.

The wife seeks a decree and custody of their daughter, age 2.
She states that the couple owns an automobile, an airplane and cash of the total value of $10,000.

The Tunstalls were married in Riverside. They separated in 1925.
Mrs. Tunstall twice has caused her husband's arrest for failure to support their child, she states. He also was arrested in Imperial county for possession of liquor, she claims.

Attorney Morris A. Cain, Santa
Ana, is counsel for Mrs. Tunstall.

EXCAVATORS OF GRAVEL LEASE IN COURT SUIT

Charging that the firm of Kavanagh and Twoby has violated provisions of a gravel lease in Santiago creek, the city of Orange late yesterday filed suit in superior court against the firm and George
A. Simpson, asking cancellation of the lease, restoration of the premises, an injunction against further excavating and $3500 damages.

City Attorney L. F. Coburn and the Santa Ana legal firm of Head, Rutan and Scovel represent the city in the proceedings. The case has been assigned to Judge H. G.
Ames' department of the superior court, but no date for hearing has yet been arranged.

The suit charges that Kavanagh
and Twoby have excavated in restricted territory and have diverted the natural channel of the creek, causing damage at the west bank. The creek waters, it is alleged, have been thrown against that point with increased force,
causing an erosion that has washed away much soil of agricultural value and undermining many full grown eucalyptus trees which have fallen into the creek. Excavation, it is alleged, has encroached over the boundary line stated in the lease, a distance of 30 feet from the west bank.

The city, it is said, has offered to return to Kavanagh and Twoby
the $962 received as advance rental on the lease.

According to the complaint filed,
the lease originally was granted to Simpson in August, 1924, for a five-year period at an agreed rental of $4000. Simpson assigned to Kavanagh and Twoby August 4, 1925.

Orange Man To Appear on Charge
Of Trespassing

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—L. A. Standley, a boarder at 512 West Culver street, was arrested last night on a charge of trespassing preferred
by J. V. Dorsey, a next door neighbor, who alleges that Standley committed the offense in using a garden which Dorsey claims belongs to him. Standley deposited a check for $31.52 to insure his appearance before Justice of the Peace Ingles
on September 28, at 10 a. m.

Miss Martha Kelsey, of Garden Grove, the representative of the Orange county ex-service men in the "Queen of the Air" contest, sponsored by the Santa Ana Air club in connection with the second annual World Flight Commemorative Air meet, to be held Sunday, today went into second place in the vote standings. Miss Glenna-Jean Hill, representing the Santa Ana Exchange club, remaining in the lead.

Miss Kelsey's spurt was largely due to the efforts of Frank Mason, commodore of the Brea Air club and adjutant of the Brea post of the American Legion.

Miss Ruth Stinch, Oklahoma beauty, is in third place and Miss Helen Hull, representing the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce, has been crowded into last place.

Word was received today from Fred Hoyt, winner of the "on-to-Sesqui" prize in the national air races in Philadelphia early this month, that he will arrive in Los Angeles Thursday to compete in the sky regatta. Entries now total 60, coming from the army, navy, forestry, Reserve Officers Training corps, air mail and civilian ranks. Trophies, cash and merchandise prizes are offered. There will be two classes of planes in the military and naval group and three in civilian.

INFLUX OF NEW RESIDENTS TO SANTA ANA IS SHOWN IN SCHOOL'S ENROLLMENT GAIN

With the first week of school over and enrollment figures virtually complete, an increase over the mark of last year is shown at the Santa Ana polytechnic high school, according to Principal D. K. Hammond.

A check on the registration today showed that there are 24 more students in the high school than at this time last year. The total enrollment to date is 856, compared with 832 last year. As a result of the increase, Principal Hammond said that it would be necessary to add another teacher to the faculty.

The increase indicates a healthy influx of residents to Santa Ana, Hammond stated. Thirteen states, including New York, are represented. The state to send the most Texas, three students registering from there. Ninety new students, including those who came to Santa Ana from other parts of California, are attending the Santa Ana high school for the first time. During the summer a number of former high school students left Santa Ana, but the influx was great enough to counteract this and, in addition, show the increase.

States from which students came are Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas, Washington, Oregon, Mississippi, New York, Kansas, Colorado, Ohio, Iowa, Wyoming and Michigan.

The high school is operating under full schedule. Some of the classes are overcrowded, according to Hammond. For this reason, the addition of another teacher in the English department has become necessary.

The list of new students is as follows:

ACTOR-PRIEST IS NOT AWARE OF CONFESSION

Philip A. Goodwin, alleged actor-priest, who is being held in the county jail on a charge of murdering J. J. Patterson, has had nothing to say regarding the alleged confession of Albert Gaines, Utah cowboy, who Monday night is said to have told the district attorney, all the details of the murder and who is said to have strongly implicated the priest.

The reason Goodwin has said nothing is because he has not learned that Gaines has talked, in the opinion of jailers. Joe Irvine, acting jailer, said today that all newspapers, containing the story of Gaines' statement, had been withheld from the tank and that Goodwin does not know that Gaines even has been brought here from Montana, where he was arrested.

"Goodwin thinks Gaines will be here today, sometime," Irvine said. "We did not tell him anything about it."

Goodwin now is being held incommunicado in the county jail, as is Gaines. No one will be allowed to visit the alleged priest and actor until after his attorneys visit him. This order also affected newspapermen, Sheriff Jernigan said.

County officers, working on the case, fear that some bit of evidence will be disclosed which will hinder the prosecution, it was said.

ALLEGED BURGLAR HELD TO ANSWER

F. E. Roberts, charged with burglary, was bound over to the superior court this morning when he appeared before Justice of the Peace French, in Fullerton, where the alleged offense was committed. Date for his trial has not been set.

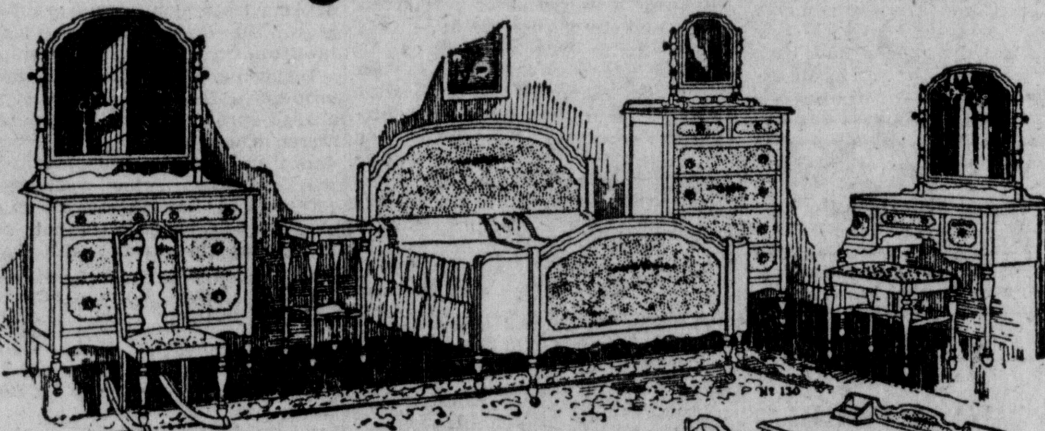

Roberts is accused of entering the Kopper Kettle cafeteria, in Fullerton, on September 3, and making away with $35 in cash, a pair of shoes and a quantity of cigars. He was arrested September 18, while loitering in the vicinity of the cafeteria. Roberts is a former employee of the establishment.

The alleged burglar is being held in the Orange county jail.

Wedding Adds Interest To Reception For Korean Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bowe, Miss Hollis Bowe, Miss Mildred Bowe, Mr. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Lorraine Bowe, Mrs. Viola Bullard and Mrs. Elizabeth Boyce comprised a little group of Santa Anans who late last week were among the scores of guests attending a reception in Westminster for Dr. Roy M. Byram and his wife, Dr. Bertha Byram, and at the same time witnessed the wedding of the former's youngest sister, Miss Dorothy Fern Byram to J. Dudley Smith of Los Angeles.

Dr. Roy Byram is in charge of a hospital in Kangkel, Korea, where he and his wife are both medical missionaries. The two, with their small daughters, Mertis and Laura Bell, (the latter claiming Korea as her native country) arrived a short time ago for an extended home visit after an absence of five years successful work.

The reception honoring them, was planned by their friends to be held in the Westminster Presbyterian church in order to have room for entertaining a large crowd. The wedding which played so large a part in the evening's entertainment, was a surprise to all but the immediate relatives.

An informal hour of vocal music was held and speeches of welcome were made by Mrs. Thomas Hosack, C. C. Johnson, and the Rev. Ray Weld. Both Dr. Roy and Dr. Bertha Byram voiced their appreciation of the royal welcome extended them.

The church choir then sang and Mrs. Ray Weld played a violin number. Mrs. David Boyce of Walnut Acres sang "O Promise Me" to the organ accompaniment of Mrs. O. B. Byram, and the song was followed by Wagner's Wedding March from Lohengrin and the appearance of the bride party, to the complete surprise of the guests.

The altar was like a charming garden with a profusion of aster in pastel tints, arranged by the artistic hands of Mrs. R. E. Larter and Mrs. Thomas Hosack. The Rev. W. T. Wardle of Los Angeles, former pastor of the Westminster church, led the bridal procession and read the impressive service.

Miss Byram entered on the arm of her father, O. B. Byram, by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a beautiful gown of satin crepe which, with the lace veil, was a gift from her sister-in-law, Dr. Bertha Byram, who brought it from Japan especially for her wedding. Her veil fell from a chaplet of pearls and orange blossoms. Her flowers were pink rosebuds in shower effect, while the flowers carried by her bridesmaids were lavender sweet peas and ferns.

Dr. Byram served as honor matron, wearing old rose crepe; Miss Elma Templin as maid of honor wore pale pink and Mrs. Alton Warren, the third attendant, wore orchid. Two tiny flower girls were Mertis and Laura Bell Byram in fluffy little frocks of pale green, with baskets of rose petals.

Mr. Smith was assisted by his brother, Scobie Smith, as best man and Glenn Byram and Alton Warren as ushers. At a point during the ceremony, Mrs. Boyce sang "I Love You Truly" and following the final benediction, the happy pair left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

A reception was held in the church hall and refreshments were served. One table was set for the wedding party and the parents of the happy pair, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Byram, city treasurer of Burbank, with Mrs. Smith. Tall tapers lighted the table and in their soft light, the new Mrs. Smith cut the wedding cake. Especially interesting was the fine linen cloth covering the table for it was a wedding gift to the bride's mother 35 years ago, from her grandfather.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith Jr. are enjoying a motor camping trip in northern California. Upon their return they will greet their friends in a cozy new home in Alhambra. Mr. Smith is senior draftsman on road work for Los Angeles county having occupied the position for the past two years. He received his education in Pomona and Cal Tech. His bride graduated last June from Occidental college. Many pleasant events have been given in honor of her betrothal and approaching wedding and gifts made the young people, were numerous and beautiful.

Guests from different parts of California, joined Westminster friends in extending greetings to the medical missionaries from Korea and later enjoying the wedding ceremony. They included grandparents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. John N. Smith of Hollywood and Mrs. Ruggles of Burbank, also his parents, brothers and sister, and many other relatives of both young people.

Young People Choose Riverside as Scene Of Quiet Wedding

ORD reached their interested friends today, of the marriage last night in Riverside, of Miss Clara Kramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Kramer, 117 Minter street, and Burhl R. Wing, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wing, of Orange.

The young people motored to the Mission Inn city, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Christenson of 1066 Hickory street, who were the sole guests at the quiet ceremony. Miss Kramer, a very lovely brunette, chose brown satin crepe for her wedding frock and wore with it, a brown hat and cloak, and sateen shoes and hose.

Serving as her matron of honor, Mrs. Christenson was gowned in black with touches of flesh chiffon and with hat to harmonize. Mr. Christenson, of course, served Mr. Wing as best man. The young people enjoyed a wedding dinner at Mission Inn after return of Mr. and Mrs. Christenson to Santa Ana. Mr. and Mrs. Wing planned to remain in Riverside for a day or so and then motor southward to San Diego and other points.

Upon their return they will be at home to their friends in an attractive apartment in Orange, where a wealth of wedding and shower gifts will add their attractiveness and attest to the esteem in which the bride is held by a large circle of friends.

Mr. Wing is proprietor of the National barber shop in Orange and his bride has been connected for several years with the circulation department of the Register, where she will continue with her duties for the time being.

Popular New Dance Is Originated

Among matters of interest to Santa Anans in the recent convention of California Association Teachers of Dancing, held in Los Angeles at the Biltmore, was the prominence given the work of Miss Mabel Rockwell of the school of dancing by that name, in this city, and member of the Business and Professional Women's club.

Miss Rockwell introduced her new fox trot, "Barcelona," and it was adopted for the season's standard dance by all the teachers present. Its originator posed for the city papers and for the Fox Film company which took a full reel of the steps, which were declared more graceful and less complicated than the Valencia.

The local teacher was re-elected to the office of state vice president. The state association declared in favor of affiliating with the newly formed Dancing Masters of America which boasts practically all the larger organizations of the country in its membership.

Disposing of her Redondo Beach property, Miss Rockwell has purchased property on North Main street where she plans to erect a dance studio. For the present she will continue in her quarters at 117½ East Fourth street where she has associated with her, Miss Charlotte Treadway and Miss Chalmers Lindsay in ballroom dancing. Mrs. Maude Putnam and Miss Eleanor Putnam, teachers of ballet.

Thelma will sing "The Red, Red Robin" and also present an acrobatic dance. Tiny Betty Jane will sing "Animal Crackers" and Carrie will give a song and tap dance.

Mrs. Flagg Presents Vanishing Luncheon To Ebell Group

ND Ebell's vanishing luncheons continue to vanish! Leaving in their wake, however, a ripple of gaiety that continues with smaller ripples promised for the future. Mrs. A. G. Flagg was the most recent hostess of the original group of five members of the finance committee of the society, and entertained a dozen friends yesterday at her home, 1320 North Broadway.

Every detail of the affair was charming, from yellow and lavender decorative appointments, through the delectable luncheon menu to the bridge games of the afternoon.

Baby chrysanthemums in tones of yellow, and lavender centurias appeared on the tables, centering the lavender fluted doliars that were placed on the immaculate linens. Yellow nut cups were used and the menu expressed the colors wherever possible. Miss Jimmie Flagg aided her mother in extending the hospitality of the home.

Bridge was introduced in the afternoon and exquisite chiffon handkerchiefs, each with its hand-painted design, provided by Mrs. Flagg for prizes, went to Mrs. McMullen, Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Campbell, scoring high, second and low, respectively.

Guests entertained, and who will each entertain eight of their Ebell friends in turn, were Mesdames V. L. Deimling, Clyde Walker, B. J. MacMullen, Clyde Horton, A. N. Zerman, Cotton Mather, Ralph Smedley, Roy Hall, Robert Tuthill, Joseph Warner, Gilbert P. Campbell and J. Riley Huber.

Dinner and Cards Form Happy Evening

The good fortune of R. J. Mueller of Tustin avenue, in securing a fine buck last week on a hunting trip near Idylwild, was reason for a delightful venison dinner with which Mrs. Mueller last night entertained a group of friends in celebration of her husband's birthday.

The guests comprised members of the Stitch and Chatter club and their husbands, and formed an appreciative group of diners. Mrs. Mueller employed baby dahlias to adorn the long table where dinner was served in five courses, the game forming the meat course.

The Stitch and Chatter members had already planned a party to celebrate the tenth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Mueller, an event of today, and had prizes and refreshments ready for an evening of 500 so in the after-dinner hours introduced the game. It was considered most appropriate that the hosts should hold high score, thus securing the attractive prizes offered by the club. Mrs. Jacobson and Rex Cook took consolation gifts.

Late in the evening the card club served sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake. Also the guests presented their hosts with a handsome end table as an anniversary gift while Mr. and Mrs. Kuchel added a velvet scarf for the table.

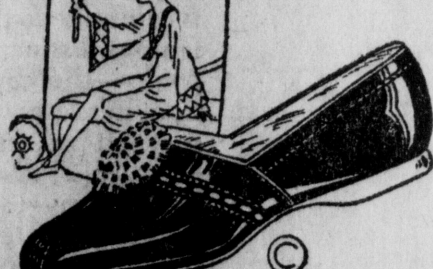

Enjoying the evening in the Mueller home were Messrs. and Mesdames Albert Schroeder, Ray Kuchel, Ralph Frick, Herman Upshal, Max Struck, Walter Jacobson, Rex Cook and Victor Baden of this city and Orange.

children will take part, will include a cake walk and "The Fountain." The program will begin at 2:30 o'clock and will introduce over a score of clever young pupils of Miss Coutant who also maintains a studio in the Hollywood Conservatory of Music.

Fourth Travelers Are Launched on Study Of Club Year

The fourth travel section of Ebell met for the first gathering of the season in the lounge at the club-house Monday afternoon, with Mrs. C. P. Boyer of Tustin, presiding as leader and Mrs. A. N. Cox, secretary. Mrs. J. C. Schmidt, who was elected leader at the May meeting, has resigned.

Interesting matters of business were discussed and sympathy was expressed for Dr. Mabel Vance Treman, a former leader of the section, in the loss of her husband.

It had been decided to take the Mediterranean cruise this year, and Mrs. Olive Lopez conducted the travelers overseas to the first stop on the journey, the Madeira islands, one week's journey after boarding the boat at New York. Points of her talk follow.

William Dean Howells paints a beautiful word picture of the islands, likening the scene to a wonderful curtain in a theater, which rises as the ship nears the port of Funchal and discloses the high, misty, frowning cliffs, shadowy clefts, gloomy valleys, long, plunging cataclysms, lines of low red roofs, the ancient fortress of Pico with its medieval touch, the large hotels with their air of palaces, the bell towers of the churches and the wide blotches of color made by the vivid bougainvillea vines and flowers, which grow in great profusion. The Madeiras are noted for their beautiful embroideries, their wines and wicker work, their factories having resumed activities since the war.

Funchal has a population of 45,000 and has a sunny equable climate. It is so enchanting that travelers are loath to leave, Albert Bigelow Paine calling it the land of heart's desire, saying that all fair "jeweled islands of the sea, it is the particular gem."

People are taken about over the pebbled streets in large willow baskets, called "carros," with low wooden runners, and drawn by two huge bullocks. A cog-wheel railroad runs to the top of the mountain and the passengers toboggan down in sledges with a man on either side with a rope to gauge the speed.

It is said that Christopher Columbus married pretty Marina Perestrelo in Madeira, and received from her father his belief in lands beyond the western ocean.

Mrs. C. P. Boyer will have the next program on Cadiz and points in Spain. The program promises to be one of great interest and as the section has vacancies, it will welcome members who wish to travel about the great Mediterranean sea, which the people of ancient days believed to be the center of the universe, as the name signifies.

Bridge Series Opened With Luncheon For Friendly Group

LUNCHING a series of their famous bridges, Mrs. George S. Briggs and her daughter, Mrs. Howard Timmons, entertained yesterday with a luncheon given in the Briggs home, 644 North Broadway, where spacious, harmonious rooms, colorful flowers and a delectable luncheon furthered the hospitable plans of the hostesses.

Their series was to extend over today and Friday with a bridge tea and second luncheon to be featured. Adding to the pleasure of each affair, will be the presence of Miss Margaret Murphy of Denver, Colo., here as Mrs. Briggs' house guest. A second house-guest was honored yesterday, Mrs. G. W. Upshaw of Long Beach.

Dahlias in rich autumn hues, were prominent in the decorative scheme, their colors reflected in paler tints in the candles which graced silver candlesticks on each table where luncheon was served. Later when the beautiful luncheon linens were removed, the tables were in readiness for the afternoon of bridge.

Mrs. Homer Robinson aided Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Timmons in the exacting duties of hostess. This included collecting the scores and determining the winners of the attractive prizes.

Mrs. Upshaw held high score. Mrs. Lester L. Carden, second and Mrs. M. A. Yarnell, low.

Indiana Guests Are Honored at Party

Indiana visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Neff, 1061 West Third street, Mrs. Neff's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Beaver and the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Ingalls, all of Anderson, were shown a pleasant courtesy one evening early in the week when their hosts entertained a group of friends in their honor. Reminiscences of days when all guests present were friends in Anderson, occupied the evening hours, and Mrs. Neff served appetizing refreshments of ice cream and cake.

Asked to meet the easterners were Messrs and Mesdames E. A. Noe, E. Chisholm, Virgil Clem and children, Louis and Drusilla May; Cary Clem and son Elmer, Harry Buck and Mrs. Molly Faucett.

Mr. and Mrs. Beaver and Mr. and Mrs. Ingalls came west by automobile and greatly enjoyed the entire trip, especially their tour of California. They left Tuesday for the return journey, carrying with them the good wishes of their hosts and friends for a safe and pleasant trip.

Ladies' Tournament At Country Club

Since tomorrow will be ladies' day indeed, on the golf course at Santa Ana Country club, elaborate arrangements are being made by a committee composed of the manager, T. F. McGilvray, the club professional, Arthur Rigby, Mrs. Hugh Shields and Mrs. John L. Wheeler, for an event which promises much interest and sport, a blind bogey tournament for the feminine players.

Appropriate prizes of clubs and golf balls are being offered by Mr.

Rigby and keen interest is being manifested by a number of excellent players.

Among those who have signified an intention of entering the tournament are Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Shields, Mrs. F. C. Drumm, Mrs. A. G. Flagg, Mrs. B. J. MacMullen, Mrs. E. B. Van Meter, Mrs. Jess O. Goodman, Mrs. C. P. Kinyon, Mrs. J. S. Smart, Mrs. L. W. Bemis, Mrs. Jesse Ainsworth, Mrs. E. D. Holmes Jr. and Mrs. Dean Collier.

Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated

A pleasant event of recent date was the surprise party which members of the Reformed Presbyterian congregation planned for their pastor, the Rev. Samuel Edgar and Mrs. Edgar, at their home, 818 South Flower street.

It was the anniversary of the wedding of the hosts, and a capable committee planned every detail of the celebration even to the delicious supper served. Words of greeting and warm appreciation were offered by Mrs. J. B. Dunn, Mrs. Adah Thompson and the Rev. G. N. Greer, the Rev. Mr. Edgar's predecessor in the pastorate.

As a souvenir of the occasion, the guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Edgar with a silver dollar for each year of their married life. Each of the surprised hosts responded fittingly. In every respect the event was enjoyable and served to unite the pastor and his people into even closer bonds.

"Prohibition At Its Worst" A Review of Prof. Irving Fisher's Book

FIRST INSTALLMENT

The social problem, or experiment, indeed it is both,—of national prohibition or constitutional prohibition, as Prof. Irving Fisher designates it in his book, "Prohibition at Its Worst," just off the press of The MacMillan company, if not of paramount importance at least is of universal interest.

At all events The Register deems it to be of sufficient interest and importance to justify a review of its treatment by such an eminent authority as Prof. Irving Fisher, professor of economics at Yale.

This cannot adequately be done in a single issue of The Register. The review, therefore, probably will appear in four or five installments.

At the outset, Professor Fisher declares that "evidently constitutional prohibition came on the country somewhat prematurely." But he adds that "after an examination of all the data, I have estimated that the flow of alcohol down human throats in the United States is at present certainly less than 16 per cent, probably less than 10 per cent, and possibly less than 5 per cent of the preprohibition consumption." For this reason, and because of new facts set forth in the book tending to show that new recruits to the army of drunkards are slackening among the young first offenders, Professor Fisher urges that the experiment be continued.

Eye-Witness Story
In his eye-witness story as chairman of the war-time Conference on Alcohol of the Council of National Defense, Professor Fisher states that the limited trial period of prohibition during war time and one year thereafter, which his committee had recommended, was finally passed only after congress had voted to submit the eighteenth amendment for ratification by the states. In fact, war-time prohibition did not take effect until after the war was over, and then served merely as a stopgap between the adoption of constitutional prohibition and its taking effect permanently.

The premature adoption of constitutional prohibition, "before certain sections, notably the east and the great cities, were prepared for it by education," Professor Fisher lays at the door of the United States Brewers' association. That association, he asserts, fought to a standstill the trial measure advocated by his committee, so that President Wilson asked that it be withdrawn in order that the Lever food bill, to which it was attached as a rider, might be passed. "It was the brewers," he says, "who had won; for their influence had caused the filibuster that compelled the president to make his request."

How the brewers' organization against war-time prohibition is explained by Professor Fisher as follows: "In the course of sounding out public opinion, I had sent several hundred telegrams to business leaders and others, asking whether they favored wartime prohibition. Must business men and practically all economists approved of prohibition as a war measure. It so happened that one of the telegrams reaching a business man who disapproved of the proposal, was handed to a brewer."

Brewers Well Organized
"The brewers' forces had long been superbly organized for action, and they proceeded at once to train their machine-guns on the members of the Council of National Defense. One member, Mr. Gompers, I was told, received 50 telegrams in a single day protesting against any war-time prohibition. Intimations or threats were made that if any such action were taken, the Council of National Defense would be put out of business."

"Daniel Willard, chairman of the council, though personally favorable to prohibition, felt it unwise, as did others, to permit the matter to be presented, and Dr. Martin was requested to call it off."

The fight was then transferred, Professor Fisher says, to congress, where the measure was again blocked by the filibuster. "It was as an indirect result of this second defeat of war-time prohibition," he explains, "that constitutional prohibition came about. The brewers found that, unwittingly, they had jumped out of the frying-pan into the fire."

"Personally I had been very reluctant to see constitutional prohibition tried until war-time prohibition had been tried first. To me, prohibition was, and is, merely an experiment in the long fight against alcohol; and I feared to see that experiment tried permanently and irrevocably until after it had been tested temporarily."

"My own program and that of the committees with which I had worked was to get war-time prohibition enacted on its merits as a war measure for the duration of the war, and for one year thereafter. Then, on the basis of the record of war-time prohibition, and after all war hysteria was over, permanent prohibition might properly be submitted."

"But we all know what happens to the best laid plans of mice and men. Neither my plans to take one little step first, nor the brewers' plans to crush out all prohibition, were to be realized."

Constitutional Prohibition Comes
What actually happened was that constitutional prohibition came first. The resolution submitting it to the states passed the senate, Aug. 1, 1917, and the house, Dec. 18, 1917.

"War-time prohibition did come eventually. But when it came not only had constitutional prohibition been provided for, but the war itself was over. President Wilson signed the bill Nov. 21, 1918, and the law became operative July 1, 1919. One could scarcely imagine a more illogical program."

"The reason was that the senators who had acceded to President Wilson's request to withdraw the war-time prohibition clauses from the food act, thereby so disappointed and angered their dry constituents that these senators felt constrained to do something to set themselves right."

"And the Anti-Saloon league very astutely took advantage of the situation to propose the act submitting the 18th amendment. Other important agencies which helped to bring that amendment about were the Women's Christian Temperance union, the various church temperance organizations, espe-

doubtful compliment of having 'done more to bring about war-time prohibition than any other man who wears shoe leather.' 'War-time' prohibition, as such, never really existed. Nor did the act finally passed, and called war-time prohibition, ever serve as a preliminary experiment by which we might judge of the value of permanent prohibition.

"Evidently constitutional prohibition came on the country somewhat prematurely. That is to say, it came before certain sections, notably the east and the great cities, were prepared for it by education. . . ."

"Give us more miles—yes! But don't forget to throw in plenty of power on the hills, and easy motor-starting, by all means." That's the demand of you motorists. Very well, try Associated and see if you don't get all three—full measure—yet in splendid balance! You get this result because Associated is "geared" to give it. It is carefully distilled so as to have its famous distinctive range of boiling points—the key to proper combustion, hence good performance. Associated has, in proper proportion: [1] start [2] sustained flow of power [3] mileage—the "start-stride-finish" of motor fuel. Ask the driver who uses Associated.

JULIAN GILMORE CUT GAS PRICE

Three oil companies have followed the lead of the Union Oil company in reducing the price of gasoline, while a fourth company, the Shell, has reduced it to the wholesale trade, although maintaining former prices at its own service stations.

Such were today's developments in the price cut introduced by the Union Monday, when gasoline was reduced from 20 1-2 cents to 17 1-2 cents per gallon, including tax.

Yesterday the Julian and California Petroleum companies followed suit and today the Gilmore announced that it had met the new price. The Shell maintains the price of 20 1-2 cents per gallon at its own service stations, but dropped the price to independent dealers handling the Shell product so that they could meet the new low price. The price to independent service stations was quoted at 14 1-2 cents a gallon, which would permit marketing at 17 1-2 cents per gallon, it was said.

The Standard Oil company and the Richfield company have announced no changes in price to date.

ROTARIANS BID FAREWELL TO REV. ROBERTS

Santa Ana Rotary club said farewell yesterday to one of its members, the Rev. William E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, who is to leave soon to take a pastorate in Los Angeles.

Fred C. Rowland, president of the club, expressed the sentiment of the club members in a speech of the friendship that has existed between the members and the club's "sky pilot."

"The preacher today does his best work," said the Rev. Mr. Roberts, "when he has an opportunity to walk on the same level with men and to study problems with them."

Fred R. Ross delighted his hearers with a humorous review of what they may be doing 20 years hence. Recently, a program of the club resulted in calling on members to tell what they were doing 20 years ago.

Robert L. Bisby, manager of St. Ann's Inn, was a speaker at yesterday's meeting.

"The way to make a city prosper," said Bisby, "is to make the individual enterprises in that city prosper. I want you to keep in mind that St. Ann's Inn is an important enterprise of this city and has an important position in aiding other enterprises in their battle for prosperity. This is the place from which many arrivals in Santa Ana get their first impressions of the city."

Bisby said that St. Ann's Inn is receiving approximately $100,000 a year, of which at least $80,000 is "outside money." Of this $100,000 about $30,000 is paid to employees, which number about 45. Supplies are bought locally. One item alone, chickens and eggs, comes to $500 a month.

FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN WILL APPEAR AT J. C. MEETING

Francis X. Bushman, who will be one of the guests of honor at the de luxe entertainment program of the Junior chamber of commerce Monday evening.

Make Reservations Early For Program, Advice Of President

Francis X. Bushman, famous star of the stage and screen, will add to the attractiveness of the de luxe program of the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce, Monday evening, beginning at 6:30 o'clock, at the American Legion hall, according to Ray T. Crum, chairman of the entertainment program.

Crum made the announcement that Bushman had promised to attend Monday night's meeting on the heels of the news that Miss Blanche Mehaffey, beautiful Universal star, had agreed to add her winsomeness to the program. Crum also intimated that an announcement of much importance concerning other entertainers on the program Monday evening would be made each day this week.

Aviation Authority to Talk
The name of a prominent authority on aviation, who will make the main address of the evening, will be given tomorrow, he said. Arrangements to secure the speaker are now being made through B. E. Morthland, of the Santa Ana Air club.

To Francis X. Bushman goes the distinction of being one of the few motion picture stars who can vault from heavy to hero and back to heavy at will, each time gaining in popularity and prestige. From the foremost heavy, the bruising "Messala" in "Ben Hur," he assumes the sympathetic role of hero and lover in "The Marriage Clause," and now to E. M. Asher's "The Lady in Ermine," as the suave European gentleman, a semi-heavy role.

No writer has produced a greater villainous character than Lew Wallace in his "Messala," and Bushman has made the Wallace "Messala" of the story book a living human being whom one can never forget in his remarkable presentation of this great drama of the silver sheet, critics have said.

The versatility of Bushman has seldom been equalled in the way he so easily laid aside the robes of the despised and hated "Messala" to take up the role of the tender loving man of broad sympathies of "The Marriage Clause."

Necessity for Reservations
President Mason Yould, of the Junior chamber, again called attention to the necessity for the members and friends of the organization who plan to attend of making reservations, at the White Cross drug store, Mateo's drug store, or the chamber of commerce office. The chamber of the American Legion auxiliary are to serve the dinner and desire to know by Saturday evening the number of persons for whom to prepare food.

BEGGAR NOW IS MAN WHO ASKS 'LIFT' ON ROAD

The word "beggar" formerly applied to the man who knocked at the back door and twisting his ragged hat, asked for a meal. But today "usually refers to the man on the road, who asks for a ride.

Everywhere one will find these persons who want a "lift." And there are almost as many different ways of asking, as there are roads.

There is one old man, who apparently has no other way of getting back and forth from the beach except by the kindness of those who stop and "pick him up." Almost every day he can be seen on one of the busy streets waiting until some car comes by in which he thinks he will be given a ride.

Evidently he gives the matter due consideration before hailing a car. For he will let many, in which there is room, pass by, and then will signal a car which is full, expecting the passengers to "crowd over" and let him in. And often they will.

It is unusual now to go for a ride and not be hailed by one or more small boys. As a rule there are bathing suits hung over their shoulders, sometimes books. The girls, too, not to be outdone, now are asking also.

Not long ago, on East Fourth street, a man of the open road was sitting on the ground leaning against a tree—hat and bandana handkerchief knapsack lying beside him. The wind was rumpling his gray hair and, with the most contented look upon his face, he was playing an accordion. The piece, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny."

ONTARIO—At the annual meeting of the West Ontario Citrus association Manager William Hartley stated that although the 1925-26 season was shorter than the previous one, due to loss of Washington navels through split, it was, nevertheless, one of the most successful years in the history of the organization. According to the manager's report, this association, which is a member of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, shipped during the season just closed, 443 cars of citrus fruits, which brought returns to grower-members amounting to $474,815.51.

His figures showed that 192,493 field boxes of navels, at an average price of $1.755 per box, brought $339,775.77, while the Valencia crop showed a return of $124,495.94, based on an average price of $1.39 per field box.

POMONA—The fumigation and spraying of citrus groves in Pomona valley is well under way. The completion of both black and red scale is earlier than for a number of years, the hatch being quite uniform, and thus more easily killed. Black scale is the most troublesome in this locality, while the red variety is found in large quantities in the La Verne and San Dimas sections. Growers of walnuts hereabouts have been heavily irrigating their orchards to counteract the effect of sun heat. Some blight is noticed on the budding trees are holding up well. The crop is estimated to be about 70 per cent of normal.

CARLSBAD—Work was started here this week on a new theater. The building is being constructed by R. E. Struve, of Pacific Beach, who is owner and manager. It will be two stories high and also will house two stores. A suite of

CITRUS EXPORT BUSINESS SETS STATE RECORD

This year has marked the largest citrus export business in the history of California, according to figures just furnished by the California Fruit Growers' exchange.

The last European shipment of the year, leaving early in October, will carry 30,000 boxes of oranges, making a total for exchange orange shipments, for the season, of 140,253 boxes. The exchange also has sent forward 32,699 boxes of grapefruit to British and continental ports. In carload quantities this is equivalent to 350 cars of oranges and 81 cars of grapefruit. Small, scattered shipments also have been made by some shippers outside the exchange. Sixty-four thousand two hundred and sixty-four boxes were shipped in 1923-1924, the largest previous year.

No lemons are exported to Europe, due to the dominance of the Italian lemon in European markets. The trans-Pacific lemon export business, although small, is constantly growing, particularly to Japanese markets. Quantities of oranges are going forward nearly every week to such ports as Yokohama, Kobe, Shanghai, Hong Kong, Manila and Singapore.

Ship to London Agent

The exchange ships direct to its London agent, who, in turn, distributes all over the British Isles, Belgium, Holland, Germany and other European countries. Although some direct shipments are made to Japanese markets, the bulk of the business is handled through San Francisco exporters, who took 125,000 boxes of oranges and lemons, or 300 cars, for that purpose during the season just closing.

While there always are chances for "slips twist the cup and the lip" in the matter of preliminary crop estimates, first estimates taken by exchange growers, as of September 1, indicate the largest citrus crop in the history of California.

The year just closing will show more than 52,000 cars of oranges, lemons and grapefruit picked, packed and sold through the exchange sales system, a record. The 1926-1927 season, barring accidents, bids fair to exceed this total. Based on the exchange percentage, the indicated total citrus tonnage for the state is approximately 75,000 cars for next year.

Record Valencia Crop
A good share of this year's volume is due to the largest Valencia crop on record and the unusual factor in next year's prospects is that the Valencia trees, in many districts, are repeating and may produce an even larger crop than this year.

Whereas navels, this season, fell below their big year in 1923-1924, indications are that they will equal, if not surpass, the record of that year with the coming crop.

Screen Test Cost To Jolson $2627

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—It cost Al Jolson, black face comedian, $2627.28 to make a screen test for D. W. Griffith, movie producer.

That sum was awarded Griffith in federal court here, in his suit against Jolson, alleging breach of contract. The producer had sued for $571,645, but the jury maintained that Jolson be assessed merely the cost of a screen test.

Griffith, during the trial, testified that Jolson had signed a contract in June, 1923, to play the star role in "Mammy Boy." Screen tests were made.

But after seeing the screen tests of himself, Jolson testified in his defense, he became so ashamed that he sailed for Europe. He said, "I looked like Consuela, the monkey."

ELECTRIC FIRM WANTS TO USE COUNTY DOCKS

Proposing to add its bit to the commerce of Newport Harbor, the Butte Electric company, of San Francisco, has applied to the county supervisors for permission to use the county docks at the harbor.

The Butte Electric company, contractors in charge of the work of extending the joint outfall sewer at the mouth of the Santa Ana river, addressed a communication to the supervisors yesterday, outlining its plans to unload cast iron pipe at the harbor, and haul it by barge from the county docks to the sewer job.

Clyde Bishop, Santa Ana attorney, had advised that the request for use of the docks be made to the county authorities, the communication stated.

"We would like to obtain permission to use the Orange county docks for the purpose of handling cast iron pipe that we will use in construction of the Santa Ana outfall sewer, off the mouth of the Santa Ana river," it read. "The cast iron pipe will be transported to Newport bay and therefrom loaded onto a barge which will be towed to the laying barges anchored at the point of construction work." The pipe, it is understood, would be brought to the harbor by trucks.

BURGLARS ARE ENCOURAGED BY CARELESS HOME OWNERS, CITY MARSHAL POINTS OUT

Seventy burglaries have been reported to Santa Ana police during the first eight and a half months of this year. Many more burglaries, of a minor nature, have been committed in the city during the year, it is declared by officials, because quite often small thefts are not brought to the attention of police.

Of these 70 burglaries, a vast majority have been committed in homes of Santa Ana people. Larger burglaries may have been reported from stores, but most burglaries are in homes, the records at the police station show.

Santa Ana people are inviting burglars into their homes in the opinion of City Marshal Claude Rogers, who pointed out to citizens why they make their homes attractive to burglars.

"One of the best invitations home owners give to burglars is the cheap locks on back doors," Rogers said. "Most people put $10 locks on their front doors and 50-cent locks on their back doors."

Leave Windows Unlocked
Another reason burglars are so easily committed is the fact that many Santa Ana people go away from their homes and leave their windows up, or unlocked, the marshal added. In some cases, burglars have been reported where the burglar entered the front door, which was not locked when the family went away from home.

It is true, according to Rogers, that a vast majority of the burglaries here this year have been of a small nature, and most of them committed by small boys, but Rogers is of the opinion that, if housewives and homeowners did not make their property so accessible to the young "crooks," the number of burglaries would be far less for Santa Ana this year.

Several gangs of "kid" thieves have been arrested and in many cases have confessed to small jobs, the solution of which worried the police at the time. One group of boys, now in the detention home, confessed to robbing 10 Santa Ana homes. In none of the burglaries was anything of great value taken.

Few Professional Jobs
There have been only a small number of what police term as "professional" burglaries here this year. These "jobs" numbering less than 10, were staged while the owner of the house and his family were away from home.

In these burglaries, the amount of loot was more or less heavy in every case.

As a prevention against the "professional" Rogers suggests that persons leaving the city for several days or longer, notify their neighbors that they will be away from the house and ask the neighbors to watch the house and report anything they see of an irregular nature to the police.

Because a number of the 70 robberies reported to police have been accomplished early in the evening, City Marshal Rogers suggests that persons going to the motion picture show, or lamp, or some other light burning in the house.

Precautions Urged
Regarding locks Chief Rogers said that, once a house is marked by a professional burglar, it will be robbed. The best of locks will not keep the thief out, but if precautions are taken by the home owner, and the house is as secure against the thief as possible, it may delay the thief, and may result in his being seen effecting entrance, and therefore lead to arrest.

Rogers thinks Santa Ana has suffered only slightly from burglars this year, taking into consideration the lack of caution practiced by home owners.

WHEAT SMUT EXPENSIVE
The loss from wheat smut this year cost Kansas farmers about four times as much as all the loss from livestock diseases.

CITRUS BODIES URGE RENEWED WAR ON PESTS

Increased facilities for the production of "crips," the ammunition used by Orange county citrus growers in their war against the mealy bug, are pressing necessity, the county supervisors were told yesterday in two communications from the citrus organizations, appealing for more and larger insectaries.

That the spread of the mealy bug into new territory each year, makes it imperative that the county provide adequate means for control of the dread pest, was the sentiment reflected in resolutions adopted by the Orangethorpe Citrus association and the Northern Orange County Fruit exchange. Copies of the resolution were forwarded to the supervisors, who were requested to take action that would guarantee a sufficient supply of the lady bug, cryptolemus, commonly called "crip," which feeds on the mealy bug.

Manager A. S. Swank, of the Orangethorpe association, and Manager Dale R. King, of the Northern Orange County exchange, signed the communications received by the board. In both letters, it was urged that attention be given to the matter of building an adequate insectary.

Members of the board, in discussing the communications, acknowledged the seriousness of the situation and indicated that they would give due consideration to the case.

Contracts already have been awarded for the work of enlarging the insectary at Anaheim, where four new "crip" houses will be added.

YEARLY MODELS OF WASHER ANNOUNCED

Yearly models in automobiles are something the buying public is entirely familiar with, but the idea, applied to washing and ironing machines is something new. It is the Washer Wilson, Inc., organization that has adapted this policy to the sale of their product.

"Father no longer has anything on mother. When father goes out to buy his new 1927 Roll-a-long, mother can go shopping for her new 1927 Horton washer and ironer," declares C. L. Godley, branch manager of Washer Wilson, Inc.

"The fact that we have absolutely the latest and most improved washers and ironers on the market, guaranteed 1927 models, is making a big hit with our purchasers, especially where we demonstrate in competition with other makes. There is a great deal of satisfaction to us that we can actually cut the washing time in half, that is, we wash just twice as fast with the new Horton compared to any other machine. Not only do we have that tremendous advantage, but much of the success of the Horton is due to the clean washing it turns out without the slightest damage to even the most fragile articles."

"As to the Horton Ironer—it is the most talked of machine on the market. One might say, without being far from the truth, that it has made all other ironers obsolete; it is a fact that the 1927 Horton is the only ironer that now looks and acts like a real automatic Home Ironer."

"Another interesting bit of information to housewives is that first Horton's were manufactured in 1871 and that Washer Wilson, Inc., was established 18 years ago. It is now the largest organization of this type in the west, maintaining over 75 stores."

Persons Either Weigh Too Much or Too Little and Poor Machine Is Blamed

DEAF, DUMB AND ALWAYS IMPARTIAL

Physical Culture Complex
of American is Credited For Heaviest Patronage

"I don't think that much. Your machine is crooked!"

The irate citizen is addressing a Santa Ana storekeeper, who endeavors to create good will by putting a free weighing machine in front of his store for the use of the public.

A reporter found that the weighing machines are excellent mirrors
of human emotions.

Sometimes the person stepping on the scales weighs too much for his own imagination. Sometimes he weighs too little in view of his recent fat producing efforts.

But the great majority of the patrons of the scales is satisfied with the verdict, or at least makes no comment and marches on up the street. Many a perfect day has been spoiled by those little pound indicators. Many a heart has fluttered as the dizzy little needle dances around and finds a resting place, without the slightest regard for the wishes of the person being weighed.

Impartial and Dumb
That's one great trouble with the automatic scales—they are absolutely impartial and dumb to the wiles of designing humans, males and females.

There are several sorts of weighing machines, but the free variety are by far the most popular. But even the free scales sometimes cause
the person being weighed to trot into the store and register a vehement protest.

Then the ostensible good will producer becomes boomerangish, so to speak, and the situation requires a little soft speech on the part of the store employee to persuade the conscientious objector of the entire veracity of the scales. But even at that, when a patron comes into the store to object, he sometimes goes out with a new pair of socks,
or a suit of clothes, which is not bad for the storekeeper at all.

The little machines that print the cards send all their money out of Santa Ana to a scales company in Los Angeles, which sends its representative to this city from time to time to collect the thousands of pennies gingerly dropped into the slot in the hope that the machine will show the customer what he thinks it should know.

The women are the most constient patrons of the weighers. They follow the averages and their
"form" a la avoidupolis as carefully as the most rabid baseball fans
follow the averages of his favorite world series contender.

Cheerful About It
"I just knew that new reducer wasn't any good. Wasn't I the silly goose for investing in that thing. And look at those scales."

Rev. Mr. Roberts, a reception has been arranged by the Presby-

Dr. H. MacVicker Smith, presi-

of arrangements for the reception.

The Rev. Mr. Roberts has resigned as pastor of the First Presbyterian church here to ac-

The principal address of the evening will be delivered by the Rev. Thomas Holmes Walker, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of Anaheim. The church choir will sing special numbers.
The members of the Ladies' Aid

BE BUILT OVER
S. A. SUMMIT

$30,000 Highway Improvement Program in Silverado Canyon is Launched

A $30,000 road improvement
program in Silverado canyon, backed by virtually all the property owners in that section, has been launched. It was learned today, with the ultimate possibility that another new highway may be projected across the summit of the Santa Ana range, to make Riverside county connections.

That the movement is on foot was affirmed today by county officials, including J. L. McBride, superintendent of highways, and Supervisor Willard Smith, of the fourth district. Plans are as yet in a nebulous state, it was said,
and the ranchers have by no means conquered the formidable financial obstacles in their path.

First proposal that an assessment district be formed to finance the desired improvement, which would extend from the Santiago canyon road to "the forks," at the Silverado mine, was abandoned
when found impractical. The estimated cost of the four-mile strip of road would nearly exceed the entire assessed valuation of the land to be assessed, it was hinted.

When the land owners, after a meeting with the officials, learned this fact, they turned to other plans, said to include a proposal to finance the road by private subscription, partly aided by an appropriation from the gas tax fund of the fourth supervisorial district. Most of the adjacent landowners are said to be non-residents, some of them reputed to be men of wealth who would be willing to subscribe liberally toward the proposed road, in order to develop their Silverado holdings
as a playground and recreational spot.

J. H. Miller, recent investor in the upper end of Silverado canyon,
is said to be backing an even more ambitious scheme of road building,
that would carry the highway over the summit of the range. When extended down the other side of the range, the road would be routed through Bedford canyon,
to connect with the Elsinore-Corona road.

New Interest In U. S. Constitution
Shown In Schools

Indicative of the awakening interest in the study of government,
as the importance placed on citizenship in training the youth of the nation, is the fact that today the legislatures of not less than 37 states have passed bills requiring definite courses of instruction in the constitution, according to advices received by R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools.

As a result of such legislation, it is estimated that more than 200,000
teachers are now required to teach the constitution to about 4,000,000
school children.

The state of California not only requires courses of instruction in the constitution, but also requires that all teachers shall furnish satisfactory proof that they are familiar with the national organic law
and its principles, the superintendent explained.

THREE SANTA ANA SISTERS FEATURED ON STAGE, RADIO

Singing and dancing and playing the piano, violin and ukulele are the accomplishments of a trio of Santa Ana sisters, Frances Foster, 9, (left) Margaret (center) and Mary Foster, Margaret and Mary are twins, aged 12. These daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Foster, 808 Fairview avenue, have agreed to play and sing over radio KMTR, Hollywood, September 28. They will appear in concert in a large Los Angeles department store Saturday afternoon. The girls were on the program at the Orange County fair and often have been on programs of Santa Ana lodges.

FINES SPEEDER—THEN ASSIST HIM ABOARD MARRIAGE BARK

Being "soaked" by a judge for speeding over the city streets of Santa Ana apparently wasn't enough for Bruce W. Wallace, 401 South Berando street, Los Angeles, so he came back the next day, brought his girl with him and had the same judge marry him, thereby "soaking" him for life.

And to top it off, the arresting motor cop acted as a witness to the wedding.

Wallace and Miss Martha V.
other day to come to Santa Ana for the purpose of securing their marriage license. They intended waiting until the next day to get married, but thought they would make two trips out of it. They got the license one day and return the following day to have the knot tied.

On their way to the courthouse, (they were in a hurry to get there) Harold Jaynes, city officer, blew his siren and motioned them over to one side of the road. Then he wrote a ticket and presented it to the bridegroom-to-be.

The happy girl and boy told the officer they were on their way to obtain a marriage license, but the fact that they were just about to step over the threshold into a new life interested Jaynes not in the least. Then Wallace asked him if he could appear in court immediately and Jaynes answered in the affirmative. Jaynes went even so far as to point out the city hall to the strangers.

A few minutes later the couple entered the city hall, went to Judge J. F. Talbot's courtroom and the man pleaded guilty to the charge.
Wallace was fined $10.

"By the way, Judge, will you be here tomorrow?"
The next day was Sunday, but Judge Talbot said that he thought maybe he would be for a short time. Wallace learned the hour when the judge probably would be in his office and the couple left.
From there, they went to the

MISSIONARY TO MAKE HIS HOME IN SANTA ANA

Dr. William Ashmore Will Return to United States
After 50 Years in Orient

A full century of missionary service in the Far East, by father and son as ministers of the Baptist church, will be brought to a close next November, when the venerable Dr. William Ashmore, dean of American missionary workers in China, will leave Swatow, China, for Santa Ana,
according to advices received here by his son, Dr. Frank Ashmore, physician.

The advices state that Dr.
Ashmore and Mrs. Ashmore expect to leave Swatow on or about November 5. At Hongkong they will go aboard a liner for San Francisco, arriving at the latter port on December 2. They expect to make Santa Ana their home.

Head of Seminary
For the last 50 years, Dr. Ashmore has been employed in active missionary and educational work in the Orient. Since 1879, he has been connected with the Ashmore Theological seminary, in Swatow, founded by his father, the Rev.
William Ashmore. For the last 30 years he had been president of the institution.

The elder Ashmore began his missionary work in Bangkok, Siam, from which field he was transferred to southern China.
His career extended over a period of 50 years.

The father of the Santa Ana physician was born Sept. 28, 1851,
in Bangor, Me. Following graduation from Brown university, he went to Europe, where he took post graduate work at the university of Leipzig, which was followed by special studies at the university of Berlin.

Secured Doctor's Degree
On his return to the United States he secured his doctor's degree. Following the completion of his academic studies, Dr. Ashmore went to the Rochester Theological seminary, graduating from that institution as an ordained minister of the Baptist church.

In addition to having written a number of books on religious subjects, he has been a regular contributor to church publications.
Recently he completed a revision of his translation of the Bible
into the Kuang Tung dialect of the Chinese language.

MORE REMAINS OF PREHISTORIC ANIMALS FOUND

Another Imperial elephant tooth, almost twice the size of any previously uncovered, a pelvis bone and hip and thigh joint, with a portion of the thigh bone, have been uncovered in the sand pit near Huntington Beach since the original discovery of the remains of the ancient animals, it was learned today. The excavation work is continuing.

The new find was simply a continuation of exploration in the same spot where previous remains had been found and may represent portions of the same animal.

The estimated expense of the excavation will be $1500. The convention is an annual event, conducted under direction of G. H.
Hecke, head of the state department of agriculture.

Motor Squad Pay Increase Granted State's Approval

Recommendation from the county supervisors that the state traffic squad operating in this county should receive a salary increase has been approved by the state motor vehicle department, it was announced late yesterday in a letter to the board from Will H. Marsh, head of the motor vehicle division.

Marsh stated that the recommended salary increase of $50 per month for members of the squad and $15 per month for Capt. Henry Meehan had been approved and would be effective, dating from September 1.

The board also received a communication from Captain Meehan, thanking the supervisors on behalf of the traffic squad, and pledging
the membership of the squad to

ilton to Fort Wadsworth, with a soldier's complete equipment. His clothes, bayonet, rifle and pack weighed 48 pounds. Sergeant Kondos didn't gain the other shore, but he did battle the currents for two hours.

IN COMMERCE IS TOLD CLUB

Joe Skidmore, prominent Laguna Beach realty operator and well known aviator, was the principal speaker, and Miss Glenna Jean Hill, candidate for "Queen of the Air" at the second annual World Flight Commemorative meet, was the guest of honor at the regular weekly luncheon of the Santa Ana Exchange club, held yesterday in Ketter's cafe. Miss Hill is the candidate sponsored by the Exchange club.

William Floyd Crodgy, president of the club, presided over the meeting. Berle E. Morland, commodore of the Santa Ana Air club,
which was devoted mainly to arrangements for participation in the coming air meet.

No Longer Experiment
Speaking on the subject of aviation from a practical standpoint, Skidmore ventured the prediction
that within the next 15 years not only mail, but light express and passengers, will be transported by air.
The air mail service, established by the post office department, making it possible to receive a letter from the Atlantic coast in 48 hours,
and vice versa, has passed the experimental stage, he said. In the course of his remarks, the speaker urged the club members to patronize the air mail service.

Unless the business men, by their patronage, make it possible for the government to maintain the air mail service without incurring large deficits, there can be little hope for federal appropriations for further improvements and necessary research work, Skidmore observed.

The biggest problem facing air transportation is that of securing a dependable motor that will keep running as long as the plane is above the ground, it was explained.
"When a motor goes dead on you,
you are in for a forced landing, no matter where you happen to be at the time."

Risk Not Great
While admitting that there is a certain hazard attached to flying,
he also called attention to the fact that water, railway, and motor
transportation carry their proportionate share of risk, as borne out
by reports of accidents in the newspapers. He pointed out, however, that the proportionate rate of fatalities resulting from air transportation compared favorably with
that of other transportation agencies.

Arrangements for participation in the Orange county seventh annual Armistice day celebration and plans for holding the annual inauguration banquet and ball were among business matters discussed. Secretary Eugene A. Douglas, himself a legionnaire, urged that the business men of Santa Ana co-operate with the war veterans in observing the day by closing their stores or places of business, and motor
transportation carry their propor-
tionate share of risk, as borne out
by reports of accidents in the
newspapers. He pointed out, however, that the proportionate rate of
fatalities resulting from air transportation compared favorably with
that of other transportation agencies.

Plan Screen Stunt
Donald A. Juden, assistant manager of Yost theater, was appointed chairman of a special committee to have charge or arrangements for a club entertainment, taking form of a motion picture company on location. Talent, as well as necessary atmosphere for the production, will be furnished from the ranks of the club. Juden will act as director and to Stanley Clem went the role of the "shelik." Various places were suggested as a suitable location for the movie stunt. Some members proposed that it be combined with an outing to Ensenada, Mexico, while others suggested a nearby gun club.

DISMISSAL OF CHARGE BRINGS
FRED KELLER

Former Vice President of Finance Corporation Released After 20 Months

BELIEVED PUNISHED FOR ALLEGED CRIME

Accused of Conspiracy to Embezzle and to Violate Corporate Securities Act

Fred W. Keller, former vice president of the California Industrial Finance corporation, stepped from the county jail today, a free man, after approximately 20 months' incarceration.

Keller was released following dismissal of a felony charge, accusing him of conspiring to embezzle funds of the corporation; also with conspiracy to violate the corporate securities act and with violation of the act. Justice Andrew Wilson dismissed the charge at the motion of Chief Deputy District Attorney
C. N. Mozley.

Keller was announced today by Mozley,
the dismissal was in line with a previously arranged plan, whereby the proceedings against Keller had been delayed from time to time, until it was felt that he had been sufficiently punished for his alleged offenses.

Keller has served one sentence of six months on a charge of misdemeanor embezzlement of his company's funds. He completed that sentence in 1924, only to find the second charge, a felony, facing him.
Since then he has been held in jail
while authorities were attempting to apprehend his co-defendants and alleged confederates, E. E. Boyle and H. D. Mollahan. Boyle was located in Wichita, Kas., but efforts to extradite him failed. Mollahan, said to be in Mexico, never has been located. It is stated, however, that Boyle and Mollahan have made good most of the financial difficulties charged against the trio.
And Keller has served a year and eight months in jail, taking into account the period of his sentence
and the time before and since, when he was held awaiting court procedure.

Both Sides Uncertain
When he was held to answer on the felony charge at his preliminary examination some time ago, it was mutually understood by prosecution and defense that further proceedings should be delayed until the present and then dropped. The prosecution, it was intimated, felt uncertain of its ability to secure a conviction of Keller without Boyle and Mollahan in the case. The defense, it was likewise intimated, felt sufficiently uncertain of its prospects to risk a trial. Hence the tacit understanding with reference to the course taken. The prosecution expressed itself as satisfied today that Keller had been thoroughly punished.

It was while promoting the organization of a branch of the California Industrial Finance company,
in Santa Ana, nearly two years ago,
that Keller got into difficulties with the law. He directed the sale of stock in this city and interested a number of investors. The receipts of stock sales, under the corporation's permit from the state, were impounded in a bank here. Keller
it was claimed, converted about $3-

And—as for the children, everybody knows that hot cereal in some form is as necessary to their development, mentally and physically, as sleep and water.

This cereal contains the whole wheat berry, and rye, a most enjoyable cereal, containing health, strength and renewed vitality for old and young, for the sturdy and the weak. It eventually will be the Great American Food, and have its place on the diet list of every thoughtful wife and mother.

courthouse and secured their license. The next day, Wallace and his bride-to-be walked into the city hall, equipped with the license. They found Judge Talbot and told him they wished to be married and the judge, always willing to oblige, immediately began looking around for a witness. He found Harold Jaynes, the motor cop, who, the day before, had arrested the bridegroom.

Judge Talbot said today that he was greatly surprised to learn that the two wished to be married when they returned, because, he said, he thought they were married.

Federal Judge Is Dead of Apoplexy

GEARHART, ORE., Sept. 22.—Judge Charles E. Wolverton, 75, of the U. S. district court of Oregon, died here last night of apoplexy. He and Mrs. Wolverton were here on a vacation. The noted jurist was observed to slump in his chair before the fireplace. Before friends reached his side, he was dead. He was a native of Iowa, but had lived in Oregon for more than 50 years. He was a former chief justice of the state supreme court and was appointed U. S. district judge in 1905.

ALLEGED CHECK ARTIST HUNTED YEAR. NABBED

With the arrest of Sherman Moore, 31, said to be a shell-shocked veteran, of Compton, and who is said to have admitted escaping from Norwalk sanitarium, deputy sheriffs are of the opinion that a man, for whom a year's search has been made and who, they believe, is guilty of passing as many as 30 fictitious checks in various Orange county cities, has been found.

Moore was arrested by Officer Bannister, of the Huntington Beach police force, this morning, after the sheriff's office had asked the Huntington Beach police to be on the lookout for him. The man is alleged to have passed several worthless checks in Laguna Beach today and Judge Murphy, of the beach town, notified the sheriff's office that the man was headed north on the coast route. His arrest followed in Huntington Beach.

Moore was brought to the sheriff's office at noon, when he was admitted to passing a large number of checks in the county. He was reported this afternoon as aiding officers in straightening out his affairs.

Santa Ana, Orange, La Habra, Newport Beach, Seal Beach, Anaheim and Fullerton are towns in which Moore is thought to have passed checks for various amounts during the last several months. He admitted passing checks in La Habra, officers said.

Moore has been using the name of R. L. Davis in signing a number of the checks, officers learned.

According to a statement made by him to deputies, he is at the present time, on parole from Los Angeles county, where he once was arrested on a check charge. Moore claims his father is an attorney in Compton.

The man also claims that he was married in Santa Ana last May by Justice Kenneth Morrison. He said that his wife was living with her parents at the present time.

HEART ATTACK IS FATAL TO S. A. MAN

A heart attack while he was driving to his home in Santa Ana from Los Angeles late yesterday caused the death of John Herbert Chandler, 54, connected with the C. B. Berger company in the insurance department.

Mr. Chandler collapsed in the arms of his wife in Anaheim. He was rushed to the Anaheim sanitarium, where he died a short time after arriving.

An inquest over the body was held at the Hodge parlors in Anaheim this morning, the jury rendering a verdict of death caused by acute heart trouble.

Mr. Chandler resided at 501 East Washington avenue. Announcement of funeral services will be made following receipt of word from a son, now in the east.

The deceased was a railroad worker before taking up insurance work. He was with the Colorado Midland company, as dispatcher and later was a conductor on the Santa Fe railroad. He had lost a leg and an arm in a railroad accident.

Pasadena to Vote On Manager Form

PASADENA, Sept. 22.—Whether Pasadena is to retain its city manager form of government or adopt the mayor and council system is to be decided at the November election.

The board of directors has authorized three proposed amendments to the city charter to go on the November ballots.

The first two propose to replace the city manager and board of directors with a mayor and council. A third provides that the present system be retained, but that the city directors be ousted and a new election held to replace them.

DISMISSAL OF CHARGE BRINGS MAN'S FREEDOM

000 to his own use, checking the amounts out of the bank pie-meal.

Offense Was Reduced

A complaint, charging felony embezzlement, was filed against him H. C. Head, Santa Ana attorney and one of the stockholders. At Keller's trial, the defense made the point that the charge could take into account only one of the transactions connected with the withdrawal of funds from the bank. The prosecution was forced to stand upon one check in presenting its case. The largest check that Keller had drawn upon the corporation funds was for $150, which reduced the offense from a felony to a misdemeanor. The line between the two degrees of embezzlement is $200. Keller was convicted by the jury of the misdemeanor and served a six-month sentence.

Chief Deputy District Attorney Mozley, feeling that Keller had evaded full penalty of his alleged act, drew new charges against Keller and his associates, charging conspiracy, which is a felony. This charge, if proved, would not provide the loop-hole through which the defense, at the first trial, escaped a state's prison sentence. With Boyle and Mollahan absent, however, the conspiracy case offered obstacles that the prosecution finally decided would make advisable a compromise. This was offered to the satisfaction of both sides.

SURVIVORS ARE TO TRY PARIS FLIGHT

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 22.—The three principal figures in the projected New York-to-Paris flight declared today that realization of the plan would be the only fitting memorial to their two comrades, who were killed yesterday when their plane burned at the moment of starting.

A new machine, built by Igor Sikorsky and piloted by Capt. Rene Fonck, French ace, and Lt. Lawrence W. Curtin, U. S. N., will make a reality of the proposed flight, it was announced.

The original venture ended in disaster yesterday, when the $125,000 plane "cart-wheeled" on the take-off and burst into flame, after struggling in vain to lift its too great load of fuel from the ground. Lt. J. Islamoff, the mechanic, and Charles Clavier, the radio operator, were burned to death.

The first two propose to replace the city manager and board of directors with a mayor and council. A third provides that the present system be retained, but that the city directors be ousted and a new election held to replace them.

PENNY SCALES REFLECT EMOTIONS

Well, there is nothing like being cheerful about it."

The reporter, who watched the weighing machines, found that the old slogan, "laugh and grow fat," still is very much in the running. The fat folks, not the semi-fats, but the really, truly rotund individuals, almost invariably laugh no matter what the needle indicated.

But the "plump," the sort of person who refers to his excess flesh as "plumpness," because, to be "fat" suggests the gourmand, scowl, grouch and sometimes become vituperative at the slot machine and its little message. These persons would have one believe that it would be far better not to have a weighing machine at all than to have one that is "crooked" on the face.

The American complex for physical culture is blamed, or credited, depending upon the point of view, for much of the heavy patronage of the weighing machines. The little advertisements in the newspapers, asking, impudently, "how many pounds have you lost today?" have added their myriads to the life of weighing machine fans.

FOOD HANDLING LAW NOT NEW IN CALIFORNIA

Proposition No. 3 on November Ballot is 1894 Law Brought up to Date

"Regulation of the manufacture and distribution of food for the health and protection of the people is not a new thing," says Sam H. Greene, secretary of California Dairy council, in explaining the dairy and oleomargarine law which is proposition No. 3 on the November ballot.

"Congress passed the first pure food law directed against adulteration processes," continued Greene. "California enacted similar laws and today is noted throughout the country for its stringent food laws adopted by the legislature to protect the people."

"Oleomargarine was compounded of the intestinal fat of animals by French chemist during the siege of Paris in 1870. A few years later it was introduced into the United States, where it was used to adulterate butter. Congress, in 1886, moved to put a stop to this deceitful substitution and adulteration, and passed the first act regulating the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine. Grover Cleveland, then president, in notifying congress of his approval of the measure, said: 'Not the least important incident related to this legislation is the defense it afforded to the consumer against the fraudulent substitution and sale of an imitation for a genuine article of food of very general household use.'"

"In 1894 California passed a similar law, largely through the demands of the women of the state for protection against deception and fraud, and for the maintenance of pure food standards. During the last 32 years enormous changes have taken place in business and manufacturing methods, but in all that time the dairy and oleomargarine law has been operating practically without alteration."

"In 1925 the California legislature revised the law to conform to present-day methods of manufacture and distribution, and imposed a fee of two cents upon each pound of oleomargarine manufactured for sale within the state, in order to secure sufficient funds to enforce the law without placing an additional burden upon the taxpayers."

MEMNONITES BRING KANSAS SUCCESS

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 22.—Mennonite pioneers are being honored today for having played an important part in developing Kansas as a successful wheat growing state.

This is part of the celebration of the golden jubilee of the Mennonite settlers in the west central part of the state.

Fifty years ago, Kansas was trying to make a showing as a big wheat state, with the soft wheat of Ohio and Michigan on which to depend. It proved a failure. Farmers were going broke trying to grow it.

Hard wheat was being grown in spots in Kansas, but not enough to make a showing.

Then the Mennonites came, German-Russian settlers from Crimea. And with the mthey brought some 20 or 30 bushels of the seed wheat they had been growing in southern Russia.

It adapted itself to the Kansas climate. It grew abundantly and within ten years seed was being imported from the Crimea to be sold to other farmers of Kansas.

This hard Crimean wheat developed Kansas as a wheat state.

The Mennonites have had a reputation as farmers long before they entered the Crimea. In the eighteenth century, Catherine II of Russia invited the German Mennonites to the Crimea for the purpose of building up that part of her domain.

The same qualities made them sought by the railroads in the early days of Kansas.

REDUCED WALNUT CROP IS EXPECTED TO BRING PRICE JUMP, ASSOCIATION SAYS

With the 1926 California walnut crop estimated at but 55 per cent as large as last year, and with France reporting a similar reduction in production this year, an immediate stiffening of prices is looked for, according to a statement made by officials of the California Walnut Growers' Association.

While the season's opening prices for Diamond and Emerald No. 1, large banded and medium banded, and Emerald babies will not be announced until October 8, the extremely short world supply of walnuts means materially higher prices, it is believed, than those prevailing last year.

Because of a later harvest and smaller tonnage, deliveries in volume will be later, thus establishing a comfortable period between the time the fall demand opens and the new crop goods are available in quantity.

Harvest Begun
Harvesting of the new crop is just getting under way. The first harvesting was reported in the Puente district less than two weeks ago. It is expected that the first car lot shipment will be made within 10 days. The first car to move from California in 1925 was shipped from Santa Barbara on September 18. The peak movement should be reached this year around November 1.

The estimated crop for the entire state this year is in the neighborhood of 300,000 bags, as compared with 720,000 bags in 1925. The association expects to handle 84 per cent of the total, or approximately 250,000 bags, as against about 600,000 bags handled by it in the past season.

Quality Good
The size and quality of the walnuts this year should be materially better than those of last year, it was stated. A new plan for the grading of the nuts will be put into effect by the California Walnut Growers' association. The choice nuts will be individually banded and named Diamond nuts. The other grade will be called Emeralds and will run approximately 15 per cent under prices of the Diamond brand. This is not, however, a covering for off-grade walnuts. Emeralds will be good walnuts, only poorer in point of cracking quality and color of kernels.

Regardless of the short crop in prospect, the advertising appropriation of the association has not been curtailed. The usual quantity of space will be carried in the national women's publications and on billboards throughout the country.

RESEARCH IS IMPORTANT
"All organized business interested in agriculture," says Dr. Albert P. Woods, former president of the University of Maryland, and now director of scientific research in the United States Department of Agriculture, "has come to realize that thorough research into farm problems is essential for continued prosperity."

HENS LIKE LUNCH
The slump in egg production always in evidence in the late summer can be checked, it was wholly avoided, by giving laying hens a noon lunch, says Cora E. Cooke, poultry specialist of the University of Minnesota.

COST OF GRAZING
The average grazing cost of sheep in eastern Oregon is given by the Oregon Experiment Station as $1.65 a head. In actual practice the cost of grazing is not the same, depending on whether the rancher owns or rents the land he uses.

PROBLEMS OF THE SOIL

Q. We are feeding goats sweet potato vines after the leaves have been dug. Have learned that the ground in which these potatoes are grown is infected with nematodes and the question has arisen, is there danger of infecting our ground by bringing these vines onto it? Sometimes some of the roots or small potatoes cling to the vines. Our goats enjoy this feed, and we wish to continue using it, but do not wish to infect the ground with the water from our land runs onto a neighbor's land. Would this carry infection from these vines to their land?—W. A. R.

A. Sweet potatoes are listed as hosts of nematodes but except possibly in the case of vines growing in very light soil, it is rare to find any infestation on vines even when growing on ground known to be heavily infested with this minute pest. In the case of sweet potatoes, it is only the small rootlets that seem to be attacked, if at all. The potato itself is not infested. There would be practically no danger, therefore, in feeding sweet potato vines, insofar as transferring infestation to clean ground is concerned.

Water running over infested land on the clean land certainly will carry nematodes, but in the case you mention, where simply the vines from infested ground are fed and water later runs from the feeding ground to a neighbor, the danger of carrying infestation is negligible and can be entirely disregarded.

Q. Which is the right month to bud peach and apricot trees, and which is the right month to graft peach trees, and apricot trees?—H. S.

A. Deciduous fruit trees are usually budded in August and September or as soon as thoroughly ripened buds of the current season's growth can be secured. June budding is sometimes practiced, but this necessitates securing dormant buds of the past season's growth that have been kept in a cool place. Budding can be done as early as July or as late as October. Grafting is done in the winter, when the trees are thoroughly dormant. Late winter is a good time to graft.

MARKETING OF PERSIMMONS TO BE MEET TOPIC

The permission growers' department of the Southern California farm bureau will hold their annual meeting and field day at Monrovia, in Los Angeles county, Saturday, September 25. Starting at 9:30 a. m., the department will convene at the Monrovia high school for its business session and listen to talks by various growers and technical experts.

Among the interesting things to be brought up during the morning session are reports of committees on "Marketing and Organization," by A. F. Manz, of La Habra; "Standardization and Packing," by E. W. Watson, of Tustin; "Cold Storage and Transportation," by A. J. McFadden, of Santa Ana, and "Research," by S. E. Goodall, of Owensmouth. These reports will be followed by talks on various subjects relating to the industry by George B. Hodgins, of the Avocado Growers' exchange; R. W. Hodgeson, E. L. Overholser and A. W. Christie, all of the University of California. There will also be election of officers before lunch.

Immediately after lunch, there will be a field tour, during which five groves in the district will be visited, for the purpose of studying problems which are confronting the growers in relation to culture.

HUGE FARM PRODUCTION
Farmers of the United States are annually taking crops from the soil and are producing livestock, the value of which amounts to more than all the gold mined in the United States since Columbus discovered America, according to a recent estimate.

TICK KILLS TURKEYS
Dr. W. A. Billings of the agriculture extension service, University of Minnesota, warns turkey growers to be on the lookout for the bird tick which has made an appearance in Minnesota.

SEEDS STILL GOOD
The old notion that seed runs out if grown many years in succession on a single farm and that new seed must be brought in has proved an unscientific myth by the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment association.

BIG PRUNE CROP
A large increase in prune production in Oregon is expected this year. The crop is estimated at from 70 to 80 million tons of the dried fruit.

TOBACCO IN CANADA
Tobacco growing experiments are being carried on in Alberta. The plant can be raised satisfactorily, but curing processes have not yet been worked out successfully.

New Machine for Walnut Shelling Is Put on Market

MONROVIA, Sept. 22.—A new machine for shelling walnuts will soon be placed on the market by C. C. Palmerston of Monrovia, who owns a walnut ranch near Baldwin Park. The inventor has been working for several years on the appliance which does the husking.

Differing from all previous machines the husking is done by means of a steel cylinder, covered with hundreds of sharp teeth and operated at high speed. The cylinder, it is said, works "like a rasp," tearing off the shell of a green nut in small bits, or breaking a drier shell into several pieces. The shells either fly out the rear of the machine or drop through a wire grating between the sheller and the sacking spout.

The present machine, hand operated, is designed to shell six to eight sacks an hour. Larger power-driven types are now being perfected. A company headed by Mr. Palmerston and H. A. Warren of Monrovia, has been formed to manufacture the machines and work has been started on a number to supply early orders.

CROP REPORTS IN CALIFORNIA ARE REVIEWED

California Co-operative Crop Reporting service has issued the following survey as of September 1:
Prunes—The 1926 crop is now estimated to be 63 per cent of a normal, which is equivalent to a production of about 145,000 tons. In 1925 the crop also amounted to 145,000 tons and in 1924 to 139,000 tons. Plums—The total production of plums this year is estimated to be 72,000 tons. This figure is slightly below earlier forecasts, as late varieties were damaged to some extent by sunburn. Last year 61,000 tons were produced, while in 1924 the crop totaled 38,000 tons.

Oranges—The September 1 condition of all oranges was 82 per cent of a normal, the same as reported one month ago. Last year, September 1, the condition was 82, while the 10-year average condition on this date is 75. The Valencia crop for the state as a whole continues to be a little more promising than does the navel crop. Prospects for all oranges are better in Southern California than they are in the Tehachapi.

Lemons—There is very little change in the lemon outlook. The condition September 1 was 91 per cent of a normal compared with 79 last year and a 10-year average of 77.

Olives—An additional decline occurred in the olive outlook during August and the condition is now estimated to be only 49 per cent of a normal. This may be compared with 69 per cent last year and the 10-year average of 64. Prospects are very irregular, but for the most part poor.

Figs—The dried fig crop will not be as large as expected one month ago because deliveries made so far indicate that some of the fruit is weighing unusually light. The condition was estimated to be 85 per cent of a normal September 1, compared with 81 last year and a 10-year average of 84.

Almonds—A forecast of production based on the September 1 condition indicates a crop of about 14,000 tons, the same as reported one month ago. For 1925 the crop amounted to 7500 tons; in 1924 to 8000 tons, and in 1923 to 11,000 tons. Walnuts—Prospects declined the past month. The September 1 condition was 52 per cent of a normal, which indicates a total production of 20,000 tons. This is equivalent to about 55 per cent of last year's production. The crop is generally poor in Southern California and from fair to good north of the Tehachapi.

Grapes—The total 1926 California grape crop will approximate 2,108,000 tons, providing the present condition is maintained until harvest has been completed. This is three per cent under the forecast of a month ago. In 1925 the total production amounted to 1,955,000 tons, of which 138,000 tons were not harvested. In the table below are given comparative data on acreage:

	1925	1926
Raisin (fresh basis)	338,790	352,091
Wine	137,749	146,945
Table	125,623	144,200

Total ..... 602,162 653,236

Due to insufficient moisture in certain localities, warm weather and early maturity, some varieties of grapes have "rained" to some extent on the vines. This is especially true of Muscat and Zinfandel and to a lesser degree of Malaga. The Zinfandel crop for the state as a whole is not as large as last year, but the Alicante crop is larger. Tokays are considerably short of last season. The Emperor crop is generally quite promising at the present time. All advice indicate an important decrease this year in the tonnage of raisin grapes that will be marketed fresh as compared with 1925.

WHEAT PROBLEM
"Early wheat sowing favors loss from Hessian fly where this pest is prevalent. Late seeding may result in severe losses through slow growth, late maturity, rust, hot winds, drought, soil blowing and clinch bugs," says S. C. Salmon of the Kansas State Agricultural college.

URGE FARMERS TO ENROLL IN RADIO SCHOOL

Department of Agriculture to Co-operate with KQW Station in Stockton

R. K. Bishop, president of the Orange County farm bureau, in a special statement to the press today, announced the U. S. radio farm school, which begins over California farm bureau station KQW October 4, and urges all farmers to enroll immediately in the various courses. Only a representative number of stations through the United States have been chosen and KQW will have exclusive use of the service in this territory. Farmer students who enroll will receive printed matter, supplemented by lessons over the air. There is no charge for anything connected with the school. Everything is free.

The text book style of teaching will be taboo. Short words and short sentences will be the new order. Subject matter will be carefully adapted to radio presentation. Unusual interest will be injected into the government school by a local personality, the school master. Local color and atmosphere will be employed to create and maintain interest. Already thousands of enrollments have found their way to the radio service of the department of agriculture, where it is estimated that the total student body will approximate a quarter million farmers. The United States radio farm school deals with all phases of livestock, poultry and dairy problems in series of 24 short courses of eight lessons each. Each farmer, regularly enrolled, is a student in this great radio classroom, where concise, timely lessons, which dovetail with the daily farm work, will be presented in an attractive style by foremost agricultural authorities. Students will be given a close-up of Uncle Sam's recent investigations and recommendations which may be applied to their business. Each radio short course will be supplemented with printed copies of radio talks and a file of bulletins. Certificates signed by the secretary of agriculture and respective chiefs of the bureaus sponsoring the courses will be issued to students.

Enrollment cards will be furnished upon application through KQW, San Jose, Calif.

The opening night of the service, October 4, is to be celebrated by KQW with a big radio party, with special music from various agricultural communities and short talks by prominent agricultural leaders.

This station broadcasts on 333 meters and in this territory "comes in" close to KNX, Hollywood.

Federal Farm F-A-C-T-S

Crop growth has made slow progress under adverse weather conditions this season, but the favorable outlook for the livestock industries coupled with a prospect of fairly well balanced food and feed crop production offers encouraging evidence for the agricultural outcome this year, says the department of agriculture.

The latest report on the Canadian commercial apple crop issued by the department of agriculture shows a slight drop in the yield since the July estimate, but the crop still equals last year's production.

Quarantine measures, effective October 1, 1926, in every state and the District of Columbia to prevent the spread of white pine blister rust, have been signed by the acting secretary of agriculture.

Exports of wheat from Canada during the month of July amounted to 16,306,486 bushels, an increase of 3,209,198 bushels as compared with the same month last year.

Managers of co-operative associations that market fruits and vegetables have reported to the department of agriculture that insufficient business is their greatest handicap in achieving success.

The general level of prices for farm products declined to 132 per cent of the pre-war level by August 15, continuing the drop which carried it from 139 in June to 135 in July. This is 20 points, or about 13 per cent lower than in August last year.

Less than one half of one per cent of all tea imported into the United States during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, was rejected.

Since 1921 beef supplies have risen steadily each year. In 1925 the total production of 7,746,000,000 pounds was almost exactly 1,000,000,000 pounds larger than the total for 1921.

Old Resident Given Up By Physicians
"Given up by five doctors, my only hope an operation. I rebelled on cutting me open as I am 75 years old. A neighbor advised trying MAYR'S for stomach trouble. I had not eaten for 10 days and was as yellow as a gold piece. I could have lived only a few days but for this medicine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the extra-mucous from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince a money refunded. At all druggists. Adv.

DETECTIVES GUARD CAMP
OF CHAMPION; RAIN MAY CAUSE DAY POSTPONEMENTBy HENRY L. FARRELL
(United States Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—After weeks of training for the richest prize in the catalogue of sports, Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney, who are to meet tomorrow night for the world's heavyweight championship rested today in their training camps at Atlantic City and Stroudsburg.

Dempsey had surrounding him a staff of New York and Chicago detectives to protect him from summons and process servers and his lawyers were here to answer a couple of suits and injunctions that must be answered today.

Harry Farrell and Harvey Boyle, two members of the Pennsylvania Boxing commission, said that the police department had been asked to keep the crowds away from the office of the boxing commission when the two fighters appear to step on the scales.

Philadelphia was a mad house today. Late arrivals were looking for tickets and hotel reservations and there were no good ones of either available.

Rickard's ticket office has a few seats in the 70th row for $27.50 and the prominent hotels had nothing for anyone.

Some Tunney money was reported to be in the hands of agents to offer at the best odds available that Tunney would win the fight. But there were no takers here and it was said that all the smart money was being taken and laid by the race track men in New York.

Rickard laughed off rumors that some gamblers whose names were mentioned in the fixing of the 1919 world series between the Chicago White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds were going hook, line and sinker that Tunney will win the championship.

"I have been in this game too long to believe those stories or even to pay any attention to them," Rickard said. "I know that the better fighter will win this fight."

Jack Dempsey is the better fighter and should win in five rounds.

RAIN MAY CAUSE BIG
BOUT POSTPONEMENT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Showers may mar the Dempsey-Tunney championship fight in Philadelphia tomorrow night.

The weather bureau's Eastern Pennsylvania forecast today said: "Cloudy tonight and Thursday; probably showers. Slightly warmer in south portion tonight, cooler Thursday. Moderate south-west shifting to north and north-west winds."

If rain, as forecast by the weather bureau, makes it impossible to stage the battle tomorrow night, the fight will take place Friday night, Tex Rickard said today.

CARDS LEADING NATIONAL LOOP
BY TWO GAMES

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The close race for the National league pennant found the St. Louis Cardinals within four games of the finish today with a two game lead over the Cincinnati Reds to work on. The New York Yankees held a three game lead over the Cleveland Indians with five games to go.

By all the laws of averages, the Yanks and Cards should meet here October 2 in the first game of the world's series.

Neither fight is over yet, however. Before the Cards and Reds meet in Cincinnati Sunday the Cards play one game with Brooklyn and two with the Phillies. If the Reds take three in a row and the Cards only take one out of three, they will enter the final game a tie.

The Reds have a good sporting chance. If they play in their best form they ought to be able to take three games from the weak Philadelphia Nationals. The Cards, on the other hand, have different opposition. The Giants are heart-breakers for pennant contenders and the Robins have awakened lately to cause a lot of trouble. The Indians have not quite so good a chance. If they sweep their five remaining games the Yanks would clinch the pennant by taking only three out of five or tie by winning only two.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22.—The promising young scrapper meets the polished veteran Friday in Hollywood American Legion stadium when the up-and-coming Jackie Fields tangles with Dick Hoppe over the ten-round route.

DURKEE RULED INELIGIBLE BY COAST LEAGUE

Novel Method To End Tied Tilts Will Be Tested By Prep Circuit This Year

Whether he does or does not quickly convalesce from the fever that laid him low, Harvey Durkee, former Huntington Beach high school quarterback, will not play with the Santa Ana high school football team this season.

Because he played in one game last fall, a practice rackus with Orange early in the year, Durkee yesterday was ruled a ninth-semester player and ineligible by the Coast Preparatory league when representatives of Santa Ana, Alhambra, Glendale, Whittier and South Pasadena met for their annual fall meeting at Whittier late yesterday.

Durkee was counted on to fill one of the gaping holes in the Santa Ana backfield. He was confined at his home at Balboa for several weeks with typhoid fever but hopes were held that he would recover sufficiently to don the mole skins in time for some of Poly's most important matches.

Moore Plan Adopted
The league also officially adopted for trial a plan, presented by President Harry J. Moore of Long Beach, intended to decide games that end in ties.

Moore's method calls for the tied teams to lineup in midfield at the conclusion of the regulation time and engage in a series of 10 plays. The side winning the toss shall have possession of the ball first. After one down, the opposing team shall have the ball for one play. This method of the teams alternating with possession of the oval shall follow until each side has called five plays.

If one of the eleven scores it will be accredited with two points and a victory and the contest will be terminated immediately.

Shift October 30 Games
All Coast Preparatory league games scheduled for Saturday, October 30 were shifted ahead to Friday, October 29, because of the Stanford-U.S.C. set-to that will be played in Los Angeles October 30. Thus, Santa Ana will meet South Pasadena at South Pasadena October 29.

Class C (110 pound) tilts, played as curtain-raiser to varsity skirmishes, will begin at 12:45 p. m. instead of 1 p. m. as they have in years past. Referees will be instructed to stop the contests promptly at 2:30 p. m. whether or not they have been completed. This will permit the first team squads to start their engagements at 2:30 p. m.

Basketball games that end in ties will be replayed instead of the participants engaging in extra periods, it was decided.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—In preparation for their opening games Saturday the gridgers from Southern California and Caltech lined up in scrimmage against each other yesterday.

The scrimmage lasted for more than an hour and while no official

The high school outfit made a rather impressive showing against Coach Clyde Cook's Tustin preps, penetrating through the ranks of the neighboring city school several times for what would have been touchdowns in a regulation game. "Venus" Harvey, fullback, and Alphon Selway, quarter, were the most consistent ground-gainers. The Santa Anans looked fair on defense.

Five touchdowns were scored by the junior collegians in scrimmage against Anaheim high school. Anaheim was held scoreless.

Without much difficulty, the junior college team ran within the first two minutes Lester Moon and Arthur Clapper carried the ball 70 yards for the first touchdown. Touchdowns were scored later by Lyle Kelley, quarterback; Moon, halfback, and Lon McIntire, end.

The showing of some of the junior-college players was encouraging to Coach Harris who is in a quandry as to whom he will start against La Verne college Saturday.

score was kept it was noted at the finish that the Trojans crossed the Caltech goal line five times while the Pasadena boys were unable to register a touchdown.

Morton Kaet and Don Williams continued their great struggle for the quarterback position on the Jones eleven. Both showed to advantage.

Picks Cards

St. Louis will win the world's series from New York and Jack Dempsey will retain his heavyweight title after tomorrow's bout with Gene Tunney.

Those are the opinions of Bernard Parker, secretary of the Orange County Title company, who had returned to Santa Ana today from a month's vacation trip in principal eastern cities.

Parker saw every team in the big leagues but Detroit and the St. Louis Browns. He was especially impressed by the St. Louis Cardinals. The Yankees, he said, look like champions one day and like tailenders the next.

CALLAHAN CAPTURES
MITCHELL'S CROWN

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—Mushy Callahan, local Jewish newsboy, is now the junior welterweight champion of the world. Mushy acquired the new title and a $3600 diamond studded belt that goes with it when he walked all over Myron ("Pinkie") Mitchell in the 10-round headliner at Vernon last night.

Callahan won by a wide margin taking seven of the 10 rounds. Mitchell was down twice for no count, the last knockdown coming in the eighth when Mushy crossed a right to the chin and sent the former champion sprawling on the canvas.

Mitchell was game but his blows lacked steam. He looked tired and drawn when he entered the ring, probably weakened by the drying out process he was forced to go through to make the weight.

LEGION GETS POLY FIELD ON ARMISTICE DAY; COMMITTEE
FINDS THERE IS NO "ROW"

When athletic committeemen of Santa Ana post No. 131, American Legion, went to the high school here yesterday to settle their "controversy" over the use of Poly field for a football game in connection with the Orange county Armistice day celebration November 11 they found there was no "controversy" and no necessity for "being hard-boiled" as they had been instructed.

They found Principal D. K. Hammond and other school officials not only willing but anxious to co-operate with the Legionnaires and the entire matter was amicably settled in a few minutes.

The American Legion was readily given permission to use Poly field for a contest between a navy team from San Pedro and a marine eleven from San Diego.

In return, as evidence of its good faith, the Legion, through its committeemen, Fred Faber and Carl Edgar, agreed to donate $300 toward the school's fund for additional bleachers north and south of the present permanent stands.

Santa Ana high school's regularly scheduled contest with Pasadena high school will be played here Saturday, November 13. It was this contest that school authorities contemplated shifting ahead to the Armistice day date before they were fully aware that the Legion also planned a contest for that afternoon.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—A second injunction suit against the Dempsey-Tunney battle today was started by Ralph P. Evans, representing the Coliseum club of Chicago.

The bill in equity seeks to restrain the Sesqui-centennial and the boxing commission from permitting the world title battle tomorrow night, setting forth that Dempsey had contracted with the club to fight Harry Willis Sept. 26, 1926, any place in the United States the club might select outside of New York state.

THE ROMANCE OF AMERICA: Swamp Fox

Sketches by Redner
Synopsis by Braucher

The rescued Continental prisoners were told by Marion of the defeat of Gates by the British at Camden. They were offered the choice of joining Marion's men or returning home. The tremendous risks the Swamp Fox's little band braved were too much for most of them and they went home, but Marion's scouts remained with their brave leader.

The brazen deeds of the Swamp Fox so angered Cornwallis that he sent forces under Tarleton and Wemyss with orders to capture him.

Marion's scouts heard of the plan and told their leader. The Swamp Fox sent a bold band under Major James to reconnoiter.

Marion led his 200 men against the nearly 500 Tories. The Tories had an edge of the terrific struggle, but the little general, appearing suddenly in the thick of it, cried: "Advance cavalry and charge to the left!" The ruse worked. The Tories fled. (Continued.)

BEAUTY CHATS

A HAIR TONIC

For the best daily treatment of your hair, follow this routine—every morning. Give your scalp a quick rub with the finger tips—not more than half a minute, only enough to stimulate it before you comb your hair. Every evening, brush the hair thoroughly, to cleanse it as well as to stimulate the scalp.

Every other day, use this hair tonic—
Precipitated sulphur .....30 grains
Carbon detergent .....30 drops
Castor oil .....10 drops
Alcohol (95 per cent) .....4 ounces
Tr. cantharides .....4 drams
Cologne .....4 drams
Rose water to make .....8 ounces
Even if your hair is healthy, use this once or twice a week. We have all been wearing snug fitting hats for a year or more and we are likely to wear them for another year at least. And felt hats are heating and very hard on the hair. Shampoo your hair yourself if you can, for then you know that every thing you use is perfectly clean. If it is dry or dandruffy, rub the scalp with oil the night before. If the hair is too oily, use the juice of half a lemon, or a tablespoonful of witch hazel or as much powdered soda as would go on a dime, in the last rinse water.

And rinse and rinse until every bit of the soap is out. For this, you need the first rinse water a little hotter than the washing water. Also the washing water must be changed each time the soap is used, which should be twice or three times. And the scalp should be massaged after it has been dried, to make the hair really soft and glossy. An egg shampoo is healthy and beautifying.

Alice—Try eating raw carrots, raw spinach with dates, raw cabbage or lettuce in generous portions, celery, cottage cheese, raw onions, raisins, whole wheat bread and the like. Such suggestions worked into the daily luncheon, perhaps, and vitality to the body and are easily gotten together.

Queer Quirks of NATURE.

THESE LADIES RULE THE DEEP

Rare Ocean Specimens

By AUSTIN H. CLARK
Smithsonian Institution

Even delirium tremens can scarcely compare up anything more fantastic than these curious fishes. They are found in all the oceans in deep water below the zone penetrated by the sunlight, where it is always darker than the darkest night we know and where it is always cold. These strange fishes are all small, several kinds not even an inch in length. They are also very rare and very seldom caught. Many kinds are only known from a single individual.

Among these fishes the ladies rule with an iron hand. Those in the picture all are ladies. Their husbands have no rights at all; no freedom of any kind; they cannot live without their wives because they cannot eat.

The males are very small and live permanently attached to the sides of their burly mates. They have no mouth and no digestive system; they do not need them, as their blood supply is furnished by the female through an arterial connection.

They are known as parasitic males, and among the backboneed animals it is only in this type of fish that such are found.

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY
BREAKFAST—Grapes, cereal, thin cream, creamed potatoes, broiled ham, crisp bran toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Baked squash, cheese sandwiches, apple sauce, ginger nuts, milk, tea.

DINNER—Baked haddock with oyster sauce, baked potatoes, lima beans in cream, pear salad, nut tapioca pudding, graham bread, milk, coffee.

The cheese sandwiches suggested in the luncheon menu are toasted in the oven while the squash is baking. Sandwiches toasted this way are delightfully crisp and the cheese is melted to a perfect creaminess that makes it easy to digest.

Nut Tapioca Pudding
One-third cup quick cooking tapioca, 3 cups hot water, 11-2 cups light brown sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup broken nut meats, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Put hot water, salt and sugar in top of double-boiler. Bring to the boiling point and put over hot water. Stir in tapioca and cook until transparent, stirring frequently. It will take about half an hour. Remove from heat and cool. Stir in nuts and vanilla and turn into individual molds. Chill thoroughly and serve with plain cream.

Just Folks by Edgar A. Guest

THE GOLDEN CHANCE

There is in life this golden chance
For every valiant soul,
The unpened poem or romance—
The undiscovered goal.

Beyond the sum of all we know
And all that man has done,
Life holds a never-ending row
Of glories to be won.

Still waits the canvas for the paint,
The paper for the pen;
Still searches Faith to find a saint
Among the ranks of men.

Though man, it seems, has traveled far
Along achievement's way,

His conquests and his triumphs are
But splendors for a day.
In all that is of paint and print,
And marvels which we see,
Life gives us but the faintest hint
Of splendors yet to be.

On still untraveled roads of fame
The feet of men shall climb Far nobler goals than ours to claim
From the rich lap of time.

Unreckoned genius yet unborn
Undreamed of deeds shall do, Night ends the old. With every morn
Life bids us start the new.

IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK—I've often wondered about those fellows whose job it is to sit in rubberneck wagons and thus give the impression to tourists that the seats are well filled.

The idea is this: the buses will not start without a proper crowd and a crowd seldom can be attracted to an empty bus. So "fake passengers" sit for hours and, encouraged by this sign, actual customers come up and fill the seats. Whereupon the "fakes" find reason for hurriedly leaving and walk over to another bus and sit down, repeating this hour upon hour, day upon day.

At times as I have passed them, sitting thus idly in the sun making pretended small talk with the new arrivals, it has seemed to me that perhaps this was the ideal job. Nothing to do but sit in a crowded section of the city and watch life go by. If, thought I, the time comes when my nerves begin to quaver or my health decline, I shall seek out this job and pass my time thus lazily in the open air.

All is not roses, however. The other day I found out something about them.

It came about because of a strike. The fake rubber-necks staged a walkout. They said they couldn't get enough to live on.

They make $2.50 a day for a 12-hour day. That's always the way with those good jobs.

Prohibition, in addition to having started more arguments than any subject except religion, has spawned innumerable ramified businesses.

In addition to the main track of bootleggers, hijackers, runrunners and such, more inventive minds have turned to cleverly contrived speakasies, to secret stills and methods of extracting poison from wood alcohol.

Still there remained the danger of falling heir to poison or near-poison.

Broadway's latest sideline is the expert analyst. One big drug concern has privately gone into the analyzing business on a huge scale, so that drinkers may quaff in perfect safety.

At first the business was limited to passing on bottles brought around by suspicious purchasers. Now it has spread to the night clubs and cafes where big spenders gather.

Analysts pass on the quality of the goods thus dispensed and it is now becoming the vogue to have an analyst on hand. Thus if a patron carries "his own" on the hip he need merely to call a waiter, send the bottle to a side-room and await the verdict while pretending to sip his gingerale. Another place where drinks can be bought on the spot presents a purchaser with certificate of a reputable chemist, showing analysis has been made.

A novelty this season is pleated velvet, but naturally only the softest of this material may be used this way.

Spine Is the Staff of Grace

Frances Norton of Earl Carroll's "Vanities" stretching for straightness.

By LOUISE GIFFORD

(For NEA Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The spine is the real staff of life.

On its straightness and strength depends the whole grace of your body.

Most of us are not so tall as our spines because our lazy carriage has forced the vertebrae to jab together, causing curvatures in the same way that a string of beads too tightly strung will jam and bulge.

Think of your vertebrae as a string of beads hung upon the main thread of your spine. If the vertebrae are not too tight, the units of the body hang gracefully.

The bulging stomach is a direct result of a weak spine. Exercise to develop the muscles of the abdomen are useless, unless the spine is strong enough to hold the abdominal organs in place.

The bulging stomach is exactly like a head forced out of line by tight stringing.

That is why you should watch your spine constantly.

At the close of the morning's work find a place where you may lie down flat on your back.

Squirm out to your greatest length without moving your feet.

Then, to straighten the important vertebrae of the shoulders and neck, place your hands under the back of your head, at the base of the brain. Relaxing your head and shoulders completely, lift the head in your hands and bend it forward as far as you can stand the strain. You will feel the pull down the entire length of your spine, and you will at once notice relief from congestion around the neck.

The important line of the body is the vertical line from the eyes through the solar plexus to the ground. I call this the line of affirmation—the upstanding, fearless, optimistic, "I am" line.

If you watch successful people, you will see that they maintain this straightness, this independence of body and spirit. As soon as a person enters a room it is possible to tell whether he comes as a suppliant or a self-reliant, successful personality—an individual to be reckoned with.

There is more than a physical beauty involved in this question of the spine. Mental independence and spiritual integrity find expression in bodily posture.

It is no accident of fate that the serene, hopeful person is generally more beautiful and more graceful than the disgruntled failure.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING IS URGED IN TALK

FULLERTON, Sept. 22.—An instructive and interesting discussion of co-operative marketing of fruits and vegetables was given yesterday noon by Leo Strong, assistant state director of agriculture, before the Kiwanis club.

In his talk, Mr. Strong stated that proper co-operative marketing methods along with correct packing and sorting of farm products would do much to improve agricultural conditions in the United States and would result in more permanent good to the farmers than would any of the proposed farm relief measures for price regulations on agricultural products.

Strong stated that a closer contact and better understanding between the farmers and the business men of the nation would do much to smooth out many of the difficulties which arise.

He urged that a strict quarantine be maintained at all times throughout the country to protect the farmers and cited specific instances where the agricultural communities in some states had suffered severe loss because of neglect in this respect.

Strong closed his talk by urging the Fullerton business men to attend the annual convention of fruit growers and farmers, which will be held in this city in November.

Shells Made Into Picture Cards By Laguna Beach Girl

LAGUNA BEACH, Sept. 22.—"I may sell them when I can make real nice ones. I'll sell 'em three for a dime," said little 10-year-old Maxine Phoenix, as she put back into her bag some picture cards made of shells.

The little girl has been experimenting with the tiny shells that are found at Laguna Beach and she conceived the idea of making them into pictures. So she used a white paste as a foundation and made flowers of the sea shells, using one shell for the petals and others for the leaves. She has carefully chosen her colors so that the flowers look really natural.

"I guess I'll try to make some real fine ones, seeing that folks like them," said Maxine. "I've got a pretty one here of a little girl who is picking up shells on the beach. And here is one made with a sea urchin. It is kinda nice."

The sea urchin has been pasted to the white paper and the tiniest kind of colored shells have been pasted on the top, making a flower-like affair out of it. The words "Greetings From Laguna Beach," are printed roughly at one side.

SEEK MOVIE STAR FOR HIGHWAY EVENT

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 22.—Eighteen representatives of the various coast cities from Long Beach to Laguna Beach which will take part in the dedication of the coast highway on October 9, decided upon the motif for the celebration at their meeting yesterday in Oxnard.

Each city in the list will constitute a link. It is planned. A messenger will leave Laguna Beach early in the morning of the day of celebration and go to Long Beach. He will announce to the city officials of Long Beach and "Miss Long Beach" the completion of the highway and invite them to accompany him to take part in the celebration. They will accompany him to Seal Beach, where the same ceremony will take place. All will then tour to Sunset Beach, Huntington Beach, Newport Beach, Balboa, Corona del Mar and Laguna Beach, gathering up city officials, representatives of civic bodies and the "queens" at each community.

Upon the arrival of the caravan at Laguna Beach, about noon, a suitable program will be enacted portraying the forming of the links with the final forming of the chain by Father Neptune. Small children carrying ribbons will form the links around the respective city "queens."

It is planned to ask Douglas Fairbanks, motion picture star, to act as the messenger and master of ceremonies. The program committee which decided upon the above idea consists of H. H. Henshaw, secretary of the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce; K. I. Fullerton, subdivision; Dr. G. A. Shank, president of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce, and W. D. Miller, president of the Seal Beach Chamber of Commerce.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY READY TO DRILL WELLS ON BLUFF LAND AT H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 22.—The Standard Oil company is preparing to launch a new drilling campaign in the Huntington Beach district, it was learned officially yesterday, when Standard Oil company representatives admitted that arrangements had been made for the development of the bluff land across the highway from the Barley Patch property, which the Standard has been drilling for the past two years.

The acreage involved in the deal is understood to be owned in part by the Pacific Electric Railway company, and in part by the Huntington Beach company, the latter company being largely controlled by the Standard. The bluff lands are located near the beach, but it is understood that the contemplated program does not involve any drilling of the beach lands themselves.

The Standard recently announced its intention of conducting an intensive drilling campaign in the crowded west end section of Huntington Beach. Heretofore, the Standard has preferred to let other operators indulge in town lot drilling.

FUMIGATOR MOVES AFTER 23 YEARS

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—Bob Hayes, local fumigator, who has for the past 23 years occupied a room in the Park hotel on Atchison street, has been forced to move. The lessee gave up the lease recently to take over the Olive hotel on North Olive street. As no one took up the lease on the Park hotel, Hayes and the other occupants were forced to leave. It is believed that Hayes established a record for continuous occupancy of a hotel room. He has taken a room at the Olive hotel and states that he is prepared to hang up another record for continuous occupancy in his new home.

An unconfirmed rumor has it that the owner of the Park hotel property, Joseph Carroll, of Anaheim, who is on a vacation in central California, intends to move the hotel to another lot and erect a modern brick business block, taking in the sites of the hotel and the former Shell service station on the corner of Atchison street and West Chapman avenue.

PAVING JOB IN FULLERTON IS GIVEN S. A. MAN

FULLERTON, Sept. 22.—Dr. V. G. Presson, county health officer, submitted a plan to the city trustees of Fullerton last night whereby all of the county health department equipment and services would be turned over to this city without cost.

In a brief talk, he explained that the county health department of the city of Fullerton the services of its doctors, nurses and laboratory equipment along with all of the sanitary inspection services. He said that such a change would require that the city trustees transfer these duties, which it is now performing, to the county by contract and that the county health department would supervise all of this work in an efficient manner.

The offer of Dr. Presson was endorsed by Dr. D. C. Cowles, of Fullerton.

After hearing the discussion, the matter was referred to a special committee which will later confer with Dr. Presson.

Contracts for the paving of East Walnut avenue and South Harvard were opened. It was found that Steele Finley, of Santa Ana, was low with a bid of $12,883.94. Other bids submitted were, the Griffith company, $13,473.15, Los Angeles Paving company, $13,955.08. The contract was awarded to Steele Finley, who stated that he was prepared to start work immediately.

A protest from the manager of the Mission Court theater regarding transient shows was heard. The complaint stated that the license fee at present effective in Fullerton was too low and should be raised, as it allowed unfair competition.

A letter from the California League of Municipalities protesting against proposition 4 at the November election regarding the increase in the gasoline tax was read. With the letter was a resolution which had been adopted by this organization at the meeting in Yosemite valley last month. The city trustees went on record as endorsing the action taken by this organization.

The Fullerton Kiwanis club subscribed $25 for this purpose at its luncheon yesterday.

J. B. Horner, chairman of the Fullerton chapter of the Red Cross, has received a call for help from national headquarters and he has already made arrangements for donations to be received at a number of downtown offices.

The Fresno Builders' exchange was started here today. The exchange, at a meeting last night, decided not to dissolve in the face of labor difficulties here. Instead it was agreed, efforts will be made to make the organization stronger. The exchange also will conduct an educational campaign in favor of the Fresno plan for settlement of all labor disputes.

HIGHWAY CELEBRATION

The coast cities have cause for celebration.
And all Orange county rejoices with them in the opening of the state highway.

Sometimes it takes years to do what is easily seen as an advisable thing to do. It was years ago that the movement to join the beach resorts with a highway was started. It was years after the start before the project really got under way.

It remained for State Highway Commissioner N. T.
Edwards to push the project through to its present state. A celebration by the coast cities for the purpose of offering their thanks to Commissioner Edwards in itself is worth while.

The celebration is worth while as marking the beginning of a new era in the development of the coast.
Linked together with this highway, they are bound to receive an immediate impetus, which will carry on into continued activity and prosperity.

SEEKING CO-OPERATION

Germany, entering the League of Nations with a friendly welcome and undeniable prestige, does not start out as many expected, with a set of demands for her own special benefit. Stresemann carefully refrains from airing what most Germans consider legiti-mate grievances, and asking for alleviation of German burdens growing out of the war settlement.

Stresemann recognizes that such demands at this time would probably have a bad effect on world sentiment, alienating much of the present friendliness.
He knows that war memories have not yet lost all their bitterness, and is content to let sleeping dogs lie
—at least, for a little longer. Which is better psychology than Germany has been accustomed to showing in her international dealings.

When the time is judged opportune, Germany will come forward with a program for German relief.
Meanwhile, Stresemann, ignoring all merely national desires, seeks to co-operate with the other league
members in behalf of general European reconstruction.

This is one of the most satisfactory developments
at Geneva for some time, and of itself justifies German admission to the league. By contrast it puts in a still more unfavorable light the nations which,
for their own national pride and aggrandizement, tried to bar Germany from her promised place in the international council.

MIGRATORY FLIGHTS

Capt. Anton Heinen, Zeppelin builder, who supervised the construction of the Shenandoah for the United States government, says that in five years airships will be developed so that they may be used to cross the Atlantic with the safety of ocean liners.

The cost will not be prohibitive, he thinks. Calculating the expense of operating dirigible airships
between New York and Miami, under present conditions, and using only 60 per cent of their carrying capacity, Capt. Heinen concludes that it could be done on a basis of $100 for passenger fare and 10 cents a pound for freight, and make 50 per cent profit.

If that is the case, we may soon have migratory citizens making their journeys southward in the fall
and northward in the spring literally as the migratory birds do.

BACK TO THE BUGGY?

There are still old-fashioned men who refuse to have their heads turned by new-fangled contraptions.
Allen Turner of Shawnee, Ohio, is one of them.

Allen yielded to the lure of the automobile, but promptly repented. His car was high-priced, and a good one. In fact, it ran too well to suit Allen.

"I'm plumb disgusted with all this speed and the dangers of driving nowadays," he says. So he has traded his car for a horse and buggy, and is going to have a good time in the same way he did 25 years ago.

At least, he thinks he is. But the chances are that Allen will have a perfectly terrible time, with all the motorists yelling at him to get out of their way.
Sooner or later he'll probably change his mind again,
deciding that the only way to beat this modern transportation game is to sit behind a steering wheel and yell at the other fellow.

FOREIGN IMITATION

America keeps right on conquering the world. But the conquests seem to be mostly in the realm of sport and amusement.

A news item from Budapest says the Charleston
has become so popular in Hungary that it is driving out the old Hungarian folk dances. As a result:

"The government is alarmed at the danger to national dances and folk-lore caused by modern innovations, and has ordered that special permits must be obtained by cafes and dance halls where any foreign dances are allowed. The permits will be expensive and hard to obtain."

Ireland is in a similar state of mind about our jazz, which is driving out the charming Irish tunes and dances.

When the Old World copies the New, we would be more flattered if it copied our best features, instead of merely imitating us in our frivolous moods.

PRINCIPLES AND AIMS

Mussolini tells an American correspondent that Italy and America are alike in their principles and aims.

"I can sum up in three words," he says, "the whole theory of the doctrines of the two countries. They are these: Tenacity, discipline, courage."

Then he added, "and work."

Mussolini is a big man, who is doing big things.
And the principles he mentions are admirable principles. But do we really deserve all the implied praise he gives us?

We are workers, sure enough. Our courage is seldom questioned. We have a great deal of tenacity

—in the pursuit of the things we want, no matter what they are. But "discipline"?

Few of our best friends would venture a credit to us, as a nation, with that quality. Certainly not in the degree that Italy is manifesting it under the iron hand of Mussolini. We are essentially a nation of individuals, wanting our own way and rebellious under restraint, political, legal or moral.

In this very weakness, however, is strength, and a strength that Italy lacks today. For it means a spirit of freedom. Italy, under stern discipline, is losing her liberty. America through her whole history has prized liberty above all else. In that fundamental quality America and Italy are opposites.

What They Mean and Why

San Bernardino Sun

Los Angeles is battling mightily for its particular legislative reapportionment measure, but on the November ballot by initiative. The neighboring metropolis pretends to be fighting for the interests of Southern California, but Southern California outside the environs of that city is not mislead as to the situation. A regular bureau has been established, financed by business and political interests in that city, and in every issue of every newspaper in Los Angeles will be found a news item, quoting this or that prominent man or woman as to the "necessity for reapportionment." What Los Angeles is trying to do is to create a sentiment there, and elsewhere as far as possible, that will turn every vote in the November election in favor of the reapportionment
that will give Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda counties 61 out of 120 members of the Legislature at Sacramento. The three big cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland will then absolutely dominate the state, and can raid the treasury of the state whenever they see something they want that can be bought with state money.

What Los Angeles particularly fears is the Farm Bureau legislative reapportionment measure, which is also on the ballot in November, and which would give Los Angeles county one state senator and also give San Bernardino county one state senator, according to the federal plan, just as congress has made up. Members of the lower house at Sacramento, the assembly, would be apportioned according to population, and while San Bernardino county might have two assemblymen, Los Angeles county would have 20 or more—whatever its population would give it. The result of that system would be to keep the control of the Senate in the country and to keep the control of the assembly go to the cities. It is a safe plan for California. More than half the states of the Union have some similar plan for curbing the control that the population of the big cities would otherwise have in state legislation.

So when you read in the Times or the Examiner
this morning that Col. So-and-So says reapportionment is necessary; or that Judge John Doe thinks it is a shame the Southern California is denied proper representation at Sacramento; or that Mrs.
Jane Doe, of the Thursday Thimble club is urging all her friends to vote for reapportionment, just figure it out that the article was written in a bureau established by selfish political interests in Los Angeles who want to get a strangle hold on the California legislature. Then get ready to vote for the Farm Bureau reapportionment plan, which will make any such strangle hold impossible.

The Senate's Talk-death

Fresno Republican

Vice President Dawes continues to enliven his fellow citizens by taking shots at the Senate rules.
The members of the American Senate continue to declare that these rules are none of his business.
This in spite of the fact that he is a citizen, and a citizen whose business it is to enforce these rules,
and in theory at least to know more about them
than anyone else does.

The Vice President of the United States points out that the ability of one member of the senate to talk the upper house of congress out of its majority control means that a peculiar form of senate politics has grown up. The senate is not controlled by majorities nor by any particular minority. It is controlled by manipulation. Once in a while some one vehement senator who happens to be in a regular minority, like La Follette, has finesse enough to make good use of the talk rule. But mostly it is the older and clever senators, the members of the organization, that employ it.

They use it to divert or even to defy public opinion.

Every other organization of men at some time is able to count noses and decide to do what the majority does. In the senate, that is never possible as an assured method of procedure. There is always the threat of the talk-death.

BLOOD VESSELS BODY'S COOLING SYSTEM

When the human body is exposed to a raised temperature, particularly in the presence of a certain amount of humidity, it sweats. The temperature of the skin usually is at a little lower level
than that of the blood.

Heat constantly is being dissipated from the surface of the body. When the temperature around the body becomes warm the blood vessels on the surface dilate and if the temperature becomes too warm the moisture output of the skin is increased and cooling is provided by more evaporation.

Dry heat is more easily borne than moist heat. If the air surrounding the body is saturated with water, a temperature of 90 degrees Fahrenheit may be fatal.

Some persons perspire much more easily than others. In addition to the perspiration that is visible on the surface of the body, there is a loss of material from the skin by vaporization that is represented by the term "insensible perspiration."

This loss goes on constantly and has been found by Dr. F. S. Benedict and his associates in the Boston nutrition laboratory of the Carnegie Institute of Washington to bear a direct relationship to the metabolism, or chemical interchange constantly going on within the body.

Persons with diseases of the thyroid gland, whose metabolism is high, were found to have a large amount of insensible perspiration, whereas persons with diabetes, whose metabolism is low, had a smaller loss.

The determination of the basal metabolism is a complicated process as compared with the measurement of the insensible perspiration. If it can be shown that the two factors are closely correlated, it will be possible to use the newer method on patients who may be too ill or not well adapted temperamentally to the usual methods of measuring the metabolism.

The measurement of the insensible perspiration is actually merely a very accurate measurement of the weight of the body. It may seem that too much emphasis is being given her to a very simple test,
yet the determination of the pulse, the respiration
and the temperature are equally simple and afford information of great value to the physician.

Drs. L. C. Cheyene and F. B. Mumford of the Parkside Mental Hospital in Manchester, England, have studied the amount of perspiration of patients with mental diseases of various types. They found that patients with dementia praecox perspired less easily than did normally healthy persons, or those suffering from other mental diseases.

This seems to be associated with a relationship of this disease to some disturbance of the glands of internal secretion and the sympathetic nervous system, which is, of course, associated closely with the work of these glands.

Back to College

Kansas City Star

Andrew D. White, founder and first president of Cornell university, was a fine and wise man. In his "Autobiography" he says it was his life ambition to guide young men into fields of fruitful thought and older men into ways of right reason.

This maxim is recalled with the beginning of each college year.
Here are tens of thousands of young men and women, flocking to college each autumn. Most of them take their college experience as a matter of course. They are so familiar with the idea that it is hard for them to realize what a superb opportunity is theirs.
Before them lie those fields of fruitful thought of which Dr. White spoke. They can enter them or not as they please.

At 18 or 20 fruitful thought may not carry any great appeal.
College gives a chance for a bully good time, for sports, for friendship, for social life. All good, all wholesome, all belonging to a well rounded development. But as one grows older he sees more and more the delight that comes with ideas. There are successful business men of great wealth on whom life falls. They are tired of the grind, tired of making money, and they have no resources to fall back on. The man who has ideas, who is curious about the world, who watches with understanding sympathy the human spectacle, who is alert to all that concerns the complete humanization of man in society, which is what Mathew Arnold calls civilization, has enormous advantages for getting the most out of life.

John Dewey defines education as the process of providing the conditions which make for adequate and satisfactory living. There is no really adequate and satisfactory living without ideas. Many unusual men have acquired ideas in the school of experience. But college provides a short cut to them. It offers acquaintance with the best that has been thought and written. It opens the way to that more extensive education that should begin with graduation.

It is a wonderful thing to be young, to go to college. The boys and girls may not know it, but they are in great luck.

THE FUNNY LITTLE FELLOW

'Twas a funny little fellow
Of the very purest type,
For he had a heart as mellow
As an apple over-ripe;
And the brightest little twinkle
When a funny thing occurred,
And the lightest little tinkle
Of a laugh you ever heard!

He laughed away the sorrow,
And he laughed away the gloom
We are all so prone to borrow
From the darkness of the tomb;
And he laughed across the ocean
Of a happy life, and passed
With a laugh of glad emotion
Into Paradise at last.

And I think the angels knew him.
And had gathered to await
His coming, and run unto him
Through the widely-opened gate,
With their faces gleaming sunny
For his laughter-loving sake,
And thinking—what a funny Little angel he will make!

—James Whitcomb Riley.

Note Book

Me and Puds Simkins was waw-
king along and we saw a whole pile of empty wooden boxes in front of Winestine's, 3, 5 and 9 cent store,
giving me a deer, and I sed, Gosh,
if they was chopped up into kindel-
ing wood they would make a awful lot of kindeling, wouldn't they?

G, lets offer to help Mr. Winestine get rid of them by taking them away free of charge for nothing in my ipress wagon, Puds sed, and I sed, Sure, and then we'll chop them all up and sell the kindeling wood. G, maybe we can collect more boxes from other stores the same way and form a regular kindeling wood company, I sed.

Sure, G, and Ill be president because its my ipress wagon, Puds sed.

Like heck you will, whose deer
was it to form a regular kindeling
wood company? I sed. Meening mine, wich it was, and Puds sed,
Well whose deer was it how to get the boxes, thats the main part, getting the boxes, we'd be a heck of a kindeling wood company without any boxes to chop up, wouldn't we?

And we'd look like 2 couple of simps with a lot of boxes and no kindeling wood company to do anything about it, wouldn't we I sed.

Wich by that time we was talking so loud some people mite called it yelling, and Mr. Winestine came out saying, Wats the fite, wats
the argument?

Do you want to get rid of those boxes, Mr. Winestine? I sed, and he sed, Yes, for 5 and 10 cents apiece,
depending on the size.

Aw heck, good nite, G wizzickers,
aw rats, me and Puds sed.

And we kepp on going and arguing about wich one would of his president in case there had of bin something to be president of.

by Mrs. Ed. Ward of Orange.

At a convention of Taft Republi-

nounced that in all probability he would be moved from Santa Ana

Measures on the Ballot

Under this heading, The Register presents information and arguments concerning various measures that are to be voted upon in the November elections. Views expressed here may or may not be the views of The Register.

INITIATIVE MEASURES

Oakland Tribune: A conscientious electorate will approach the November election with bales of reading matter on hand, for there are twenty-eight measures which make demand upon the judgment
and consideration of the voters.
Some of them are very important.
Some speak for themselves with obvious merits, while others will require a large amount of exposition.

Among those which are of particular interest locally and bespeak
a general approval are: the Veterans' Welfare Bond Act of 1925;
the bonds for State and university buildings, and the 3-cent gasoline tax.

The Veterans' Welfare Bond Act provides for a new bond issue of $20,000,000 to continue the financing of farm and home purchases for the veterans. It is to be borne in mind that, while this is a bond issue, it is one which is repaid with interest and thus does not cost the State one penny, nor does it increase the tax rate. At present 3800 veterans who were residents of California at the time they entered military service are in possession and occupancy of homes and farms
as a result of the legislation which will be continued when the voters approve the proposal in November.
The State utilizes its credit, the veterans making a small down payment and paying off the balance in twenty years. The four years in which the plan has operated have proved its worth. One million dollars in bond redemption and the entire interest on the original ten millions have been paid. As only 2300 out of the 15,000 applicants have been given the opportunity to avail themselves of the opportunity
there is an urgent need for continuing the program. Proposal Number One offers the chance to the public to co-operate in constructive way with the war veterans in a program which will cost
the State nothing.

A university is in need of buildings. In Berkeley and in its southern branch, So is there an urgent need for State buildings at Sacramento and elsewhere. The past legislature approved a program for a bond issue of $5,000,000 which will be up for popular approval in November. A study of the situation will show that this is a well-formulated proposal to meet necessities.

Voters will be called upon to express themselves upon two highway measures. One is for a straight increase in gasoline tax from 2 to 3 cents, that the great highway system of California may be carried to completion. The other, originating in the south, would divide the State into districts and appropriate sixty million dollars to be spent according to a schedule set down.
Under the argument that the highways should be removed from politics, it turns them over to politics and would favor certain sections over the general needs of the State. The gasoline tax has been approved by the chambers of commerce and various traffic organizations of this part of California.

BOND ISSUE PROPAGANDA

San Bernardino Sun—It was no mistake when we stated a few days since that all the prestige and influence of the university
would be put behind the $5,000,000
bond issue, of which $3,000,000 goes for buildings at Berkeley, another $3,000,000 for buildings for the southern branch of the university at Los Angeles, and $2-500,000 for state buildings at Los Angeles and Sacramento. Right out of California Hall at Berkeley came the first of the propaganda
under the authority of the University and State Building Campaign committee, and over the signature of R. G. Sproul, comptroller, urging the support of this bond issue.

As we outlined it recently, if the university needs $6,000,000 worth of buildings, they should be built.
We are not now discussing that question. Concede, if you will, that the buildings are needed and that money will be well and properly spent. But who will rise to justify an $8,500,000 bond issue, to be voted by the people of the state, where there is a $14,000,000 or $15,000,000 surplus in the state treasury?

Reverting to our original illustration, what business do you wants to build an $8500 house, will mortgage his property and borrow the money when he has $14,000 or $15,000 in the bank? The parallel is exact and timely.
The communication from Mr.
Sproul includes the statement that "the state office buildings will cost
the people nothing. The money saved in rent by the construction of new buildings will be more than sufficient to pay up the bonds principal and interest, when they mature." Very likely. All the more reason why we should pay for the buildings out of money
now in the treasury, and save
both the rent and the interest.

California Politics

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE

Riverside Press—Interest in the primary election campaign was centered on governor and senator; but now that we have ceased to talk
so much about those two positions, people have begun to wonder about the next legislature. The question is rather frequently asked, who will control the senate and assembly;
will they be organized so as to function in support of Governor Young or against him? That question is pertinent in view of the fight over speaker in the assembly of 1923 and 1925, and in view of the sharply drawn lines between administration and anti-administration members of both the assembly and senate in those two sessions.

Walter P. Jones, political writer on the Sacramento Bee, is the first newspaper man in the state to attempt a check-up of the legislature
by virtue of winning the Republican gubernatorial nomination
at the August primary election, will have a sympathetic legislature in 1927.

A check of the legislative candidates who were successful at the primary shows that at least 44 seeking seats in the assembly and 13 members of the senate are progressive in their views.

As many legislatures always vote with the administration—
hand wagon lawmakers, as it were—Young's working majority unquestionably will be much greater than is indicated by the primary election results.

In 18 of the senatorial and 67
of the 80 assembly districts nominations at the primary were tantamount to election, as in these districts the winning candidate will be unopposed at the general election, November
2. In districts where there will be opposition the nominees are considered to win.

With Young in the governor's chair and with a legislature in harmony with his policies the politicians do not anticipate much of an organization contest in the assembly. In 1923 and 1925 the speakership contests were the hottest in legislative history.

Several months ago a group of progressive legislators and others launched a drive for Assemblyman Bradford S. Crittenden of Tracy for speaker of the 1927 assembly, and undoubtedly by this drive will have more intense now that Crittenden has been nominated without opposition for another term.

Crittenden has three assembly sessions to the
